Doctors Debunk the Medical “Consensus”

“Unprecedented” is likely the top misused word of the past 18 months, as if mankind had never witnessed a pandemic before, though it is still unclear why in recent years the World Health Organization (WHO) downgraded the definition of “pandemic” to include any worldwide disease, regardless of severity. Nor is this the first time history records unbridled government tyranny that makes our unconditional quarantines look like cakewalks. Consider Communist China, where the Wuhan virus is widely reputed to have originated, and where atrocities such as forced sterilization and abortion, forced labor, and re-education/indoctrination are commonplace.

Neither does “unprecedented” apply to the modern censure of experts speaking out against official overreaction to the SARS coronavirus. For decades, liberal media and bureaucrats have gagged renowned researchers who dare challenge the science-is-settled global-warming party line (though in the 1970s they called it global cooling).

Today’s medical doctors face the same suppression. Physicians Dan Erickson and Artin Massihi, co-owners of several California urgent-care clinics, stirred the pot in April 2020, calling a press conference to report research-based warnings against lockdowns. Incensed local media accused them of “publicly rejecting the consensus of the nation’s medical community regarding the COVID-19 threat.” Once their video hit five million views, YouTube quashed it as “misinformation.”

Despite their detractors’ hackneyed claim of consensus, Erickson and Massihi are hardly lone voices. They number among thousands of doctors and specialists bravely facing censorship for voicing their educated concerns over everything from quarantines to vaccines. Let’s meet a few of the highly credentialed specialists whom media sanctimoniously accuse of “jeopardizing the drive against COVID-19” by spreading their “disinformation, fear-mongering and anti-vaxx venom.”

Dr. Sucharit Bhakdi

I am not anti-vaxx. I have always been pro-vaxx. I have always taught that vaccination is very, very good. But not this vaccine. This is very, very bad.

So says German microbiologist Dr. Sucharit Bhakdi in an exclusive interview with Alex Newman of The New American. Head emeritus of the Institute of Medical Microbiology and Hygiene at the University of Mainz and former editor-in-chief of Medical Microbiology and Immunology, Dr. Bhakdi has published more than 300 articles and received numerous awards and honors. Yet Wikipedia sums him up as “a prominent exponent of false ideas about the coronavirus pandemic.”

Equally demeaned by other media sensationalists since his early questioning of COVID hysteria, Dr. Bhakdi remains an outspoken critic of both government lockdowns and experimental vaccines. In March 2020 he penned a still-unanswered open letter to German Chancellor Angela Merkel, questioning the German government's "drastic containment measures." He co-authored the 2020 book Corona False Alarm? with his biologist/biochemist wife, Karina Reiss, and the pair has just released their latest work, Corona Unmasked.

In Newman's interview, Bhakdi explained why the unscientific use of COVID testing produces so many false positives, how morbidity and mortality rates are grossly exaggerated, and what makes the COVID-19 "vaccines" both completely ineffective and extremely dangerous. In regard to the latter, Dr. Bhakdi predicted severe blood clotting would result, and official data bear him out. The Centers for Disease Control's (CDC) Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS) collects information about vaccine side effects. By the end of May, the tally of blood clots and strokes had reached more than 7,500, while heart attacks attributable to the vaccines numbered nearly 2,000. Tragically, reported deaths at that time had reached 5,165 and are still climbing, though the CDC admits actual numbers are likely much higher due to underreporting. Experts estimate fewer than 10 percent of adverse events are submitted to the voluntary VAERS system.

"I don't want a vaccine that may kill me, that will protect me against getting a cold — do you?" Dr. Bhakdi asked Newman. Of the untested and novel substances (no large trial of any mRNA "gene therapy" vaccine has been completed yet), he said that humans have become "part of the largest scientific experiment ever performed in history.... It's criminal."

Dr. Peter McCullough

A typical new drug ... at about 50 unexplained deaths for a new product, it's pulled off the market.... In the 1976 swine flu pandemic we attempted to vaccinate 55 million Americans. At 25 deaths, the program was killed.

These words underscore Dr. Bhakdi's warnings and come from internationally renowned Dr. Peter McCullough, vice chief of medicine at Baylor University Medical Center and a principal faculty in internal medicine at Texas A&M University Health Sciences Center. A master of public health, he is the most published expert in his field and regularly testifies before federal and state legislatures in regard to COVID-19, having developed a successful outpatient treatment. He told Newman in another exclusive interview with The New American that clinical results prove "about 85 percent of all the lives that are lost could have been saved" by his therapy.

Dr. McCullough expressed astonishment at the March 8 CDC announcement that of 1,600 deaths reported at the time, unnamed U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) doctors found none related to COVID vaccines. Results of that sort should have taken many months to determine by published researchers. He opined, "I think this was effectively a scrubbing like we've seen elsewhere." He pointed out that, though the Johnson & Johnson vaccine has been called to the mat for causing rare blood-clotting disorders, the same problems are some 30-percent more frequent with the Moderna vaccine. "Keep in mind, the National Institutes of Health is a co-owner of the Moderna patent," he reasoned.

Moreover, patients do not need a prescription for these vaccines, which only have Emergency Use Authorization from the FDA. The FDA approved experimental use even for pregnant women and COVID-recovered patients, for whom there are no clinical trials. “Wow! Did we cross a regulatory line,” Dr. McCullough exclaimed. He also reels at the thought that doctors recommend these substances without safety and efficacy documentation. “Doctors would never [before] do that for a new drug! Never!”

McCullough then warned of a coalition of media and government stakeholders with the Orwellian name of Trusted News Initiative, which has pledged to muzzle dissenters and hide negative news to prevent “vaccine hesitancy.” In the process, they are deceiving the public, remaining silent on available treatments such as his own, and covering up record numbers of deaths and hospitalizations in people who have received the vaccine. He recommends OpenVAERS.com, an independently run site that reports raw, unedited VAERS data in a more easily readable format than that provided by the CDC.

He also strongly recommends the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons (AAPS) as a reliable source of unfiltered COVID information. (Dr. Lee Merritt, author of the main cover story in this edition of The New American, is a member and past president.) Founded in 1944, with membership in the thousands, AAPS made headlines in 2020 with its Guide to Home-Based COVID Treatment, which Dr. McCullough says is “the most frequently downloaded COVID resource ... for early home treatment.” The association’s website, AAPSONline.org, also provides a list of physicians nationwide who are successfully treating COVID-19 patients.

Dr. Simone Gold

The tragedy has been the political interference in the practice of medicine.... We actually have the government of the United States of America telling its people that there’s nothing you can do unless you are sick enough to be hospitalized requiring oxygen. This is a lie.

Another trustworthy organization, more recently formed in response to media-driven hysteria, is America’s Frontline Doctors (AFLD). It was founded by emergency physician and attorney Dr. Simone Gold, who has worked in Washington, D.C., for both the surgeon general and the Labor & Human Resources Committee. She authored the top-selling 2020 book I Do Not Consent: My Fight Against Medical Cancel Culture.

AFLD is a nationwide collaboration of physicians and patients intended “to combat those who push political and economic agendas at the expense of science and quality healthcare solutions,” according to the group’s website. The site offers access to coronavirus telemedicine and legal resources. Visitors can also sign the “Stop Medical Discrimination Petition,” which already boasts nearly 680,000 signatures. Dr. Gold explains the petition will be used in AFLD’s lobbying efforts with government and private policymakers.

She complains that valid, unbiased information is hidden by a media blackout of any news that departs from their alarmist agenda. For example, last year’s Danish Mask Study conclusively proved that masks do nothing to prevent viral spread, but its authors faced extreme difficulty in getting their research published, blocked by leftists who run many scientific journals.

Dr. Gold then predicts that we could go the way of Israel, where that country’s “Green Badge” system dictates who can (the vaccinated) and can’t (the non-vaccinated) lead normal lives. Early on, the Israeli government cut an exclusive deal with Pfizer, paying above-market value for premium access to its vaccine. The Pfizer CEO openly admitted that Israel “has become the world’s lab.”

Gold laments, “On the ashes of the holocaust, just two generations after the Nuremburg Trials, why is Israel leading the world in this crime against humanity, which is mandating experimental medications on its citizens?”

Dr. Reiner Fuellmich

This corona crisis ... must be renamed a “Corona Scandal,” and those responsible for it must be criminally prosecuted and sued for civil damages.... An international network of lawyers will argue this biggest tort case ever, the corona fraud scandal, which has meanwhile unfolded into probably the greatest crime against humanity ever committed.

Like a medical Magna Carta, the Nuremburg Code specifies that no one can experiment on human beings without their consent, as did the Nazis during World War II. Dr. Reiner Fuellmich invoked this code last year when, on behalf of the German Corona Investigative Committee (GCIC), he announced intent to file a class-action lawsuit “to make sure that no one will ever again be in a position of such power as to be able to defraud humanity or to attempt to manipulate us with their corrupt agendas.”

Dr. Fuellmich’s advisors include:

- Dr. Michael Yeadon, a former Pfizer vice president and scientific director, and co-founder of Doctors for COVID-19 Ethics, a group that has slammed the vaccines as “unnecessary, ineffective and unsafe”;
- Dr. John Ioannidis, Stanford University statistician and epidemiologist, whose extensive research proves the disease never justified a “blind lockdown of the entire society.”
- Physician and former member of the German parliament Dr. Wolfgang Wodarg, who was instrumental in quelling media-driven panic in the midst of the 2009 swine flu epidemic, which turned out to be a mild illness.

Since July 2020, GCIC has been gathering expert testimony from thousands of healthcare professionals worldwide, who agree that “there has never been a corona pandemic, but only a PCR-test pandemic,” Dr. Fuellmich says. With a near-certain likelihood of producing false positives, the COVID PCR test was developed by German virologist Dr. Christian Drosten, who has admitted it has no diagnostic value — which the CDC has also acknowledged — but is very effective in spurring media sensationalism. Yet governments worldwide base COVID policy exclusively on Dr. Drosten’s test, thanks in large part to the endorsements of Dr. Lothar Wieler, head of the RKI (German equivalent of the CDC), and WHO Director-General Dr. Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus. GCIC’s international network of attorneys intends to file suit against these individuals and others, including U.S. National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases Director Dr. Anthony Fauci, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, and the World Economic Forum, who have been calling “the shots in the proclamation of the worldwide corona pandemic” and using the panic they deliberately created to push for dangerous, experimental gene-therapy technology. GCIC wants to see these people criminally prosecuted for crimes against humanity and held liable for civil damages wreaked by widespread lockdowns.

As it turns out, the word “unprecedented” is well applied to COVID, not as the deadliest virus, but as history’s most widespread hoax; not in the media coverup of real solutions, but in the novelty of governments mandating experimental gene-altering vaccines. Let’s hope that history will also record Dr. Fuellmich’s efforts, not only as the largest class-action suit ever fought, but also as a victory for the truth, which, in his words, “will pull the masks off the faces of all those responsible for these crimes.”
