New World Disorder 2023

Since we are three-quarters of the way through 2023, maybe we should pause and assess what we think about “Year One” of a New World Order. What’s this, you say? What are you talking about? Well, your bewilderment is understandable; if you don’t read Nikkei Asia, you probably missed the article on March 14, 2023 with the jarring headline that read, “Trilateral Commission calls 2023 ‘Year One’ of new world order.”

Nikkei Asia, one of Japan’s major media outlets (and a sister publication of the U.K.-based Financial Times), was privileged to have its editor-in-chief and diplomatic correspondent attend the secret meeting (March 10-13) of the high-powered Trilateral Commission in New Delhi, India. Meetings of the Trilateral Commission (TC), like those of the Bilderbergers, the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR), and similar globalist groups, operate under the “Chatham House rule” of the Royal Institute of International Affairs, which allows attendees to repeat statements that are made but not to identify the source of any particular comment. Thus, over the years, leading members of the Fake News industrial complex that have been privy to the Trilateralist conclaves have either kept completely mum about the goings on at these events or have duplicitously passed them off to the public as mere civic-minded discussions among “the great and the good.” This goes both for “journalists” who are invited to attend as guests, as well as for those who are TC members.

Currently, for instance, the Trilateralist media membership includes Michael Bloomberg (billionaire CEO of the Bloomberg media empire), Michael Duffy (The Washington Post), Sylvie Kaufman (The New York Times and LeMonde), Caroline Daniel (Financial Times), Nicholas Kristof, David Sanger, and Bret Stephens (all three of The New York Times), Joy Lo Dico (The Evening Standard), Tove Lifvendahl (Svenska Dagbladet), Yoichi Funabashi (Asahi Shimbun), Yurina Takiguchi (Nikkei CNBC and Forbes), Andrea Mitchell (NBC, MSNBC), Ian Bremmer (GZERO Media), Lee Cullum (PBS), Martin Weiss (Hubert Burda Media Group), and Tom Kompas (Asia and the Pacific Policy Journal), to name a few.

Yet with all this media presence, not a word appeared in their respective outlets about the TC proceedings, which we will see is of momentous concern to all the inhabitants of this globe. No, it fell to Patrick Wood, founder and editor of Technocracy News (who has been closely following the Trilateral Commission for four decades) to alert the world, as he has done so many times before, about the planned “crises” and “solutions” the TC and their network of power will be throwing at us in the near future.

Nikkei Asia took its headline from the presentation by an unnamed Trilateralist who declared, “Three decades of globalization — defined as integrated, free-market based and deflationary — has been replaced by what will be a multidecade period of globalization defined as fragmented, not-free-market-based but industrial-policy based and structurally inflationary. This year, 2023, is Year One of this new global order.”

Considering the history of the Trilateral Commission and the power its members wield, the statement is pregnant with all kinds of meaning, none of it good. First of all, it will not go unnoticed by students of the French Revolution that the “Year One” reference points to the complete overthrow of existing society (including throwing out the existing calendar) by bloodthirsty Jacobins as they instituted their new order. Cambodians Pol Pot and Ieng Sary, co-founders of the communist Khmer Rouge, studied the French Revolution and joined the Communist Party while studying in France in the 1950s. Following their takeover of Cambodia (with the indispensable help of Mao’s Communist China), they determined to top their French Revolutionary comrades and “reset” everything, i.e., completely destroy Cambodia’s existing society and replace it with a Red (Rouge) utopia. A big part of that scheme was a new calendar, in which their revolution signaled “Year Zero” rather than the “Year One” of their French counterparts. It also marked one of the most horrific genocides in history, with the Khmer Rouge murdering nearly one-quarter of Cambodia’s population.

Now, by invoking “Year One,” the anonymous Trilateralist quoted by Nikkei Asia perhaps does not envision a bloody Great Terror along the lines of Robespierre, Stalin, Mao, or Pol Pot — at least not immediately — but when we further parse his/her statement we find little to allay concern that that's the ultimate destination these power-mad globalists have in mind. Adding to that concern is the fact that the Trilateral Commission, along with the other one-world groups we will be discussing here (the Bilderbergers, the Council on Foreign Relations, and the World Economic Forum), have been bringing high-level members of the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) into their organizations. At the same time, the corporations represented by their membership have been getting ever more deeply intertwined with China. And this year, 2023, they have been pushing their agenda with an unbridled hubris to match that of Pol Pot, as evidenced by a survey of the many follow-on conferences of the globalists over these past few months.

So the comment that our free-market economy is being replaced with an economy that is “not-free-market-based but industrial-policy based” is more than a matter-of-fact observation about a consequence of natural evolution. Considering the source, it should be viewed as a form of advocacy. “Industrial policy,” for the uninitiated, is code for “central planning” — meaning planning and control by the government. It involves lots of “public-private partnerships,” i.e., business-government mergers. The United States has been moving down that road for years, with Biden's Green New Deal and Build Back Better policies being the latest grandiose schemes leading in that direction. Think of Communist China as employing Industrial Policy 3.0+++ . The United States, on the other hand, is moving through Industrial Policy 1.0, or thereabouts. Under the Trilateralist Hegelian dialectic (thesis-antithesis-synthesis), we would have a synthesis that would produce a global Industrial Policy 2.0+. Globalists call this piecemeal forced melding of communist and non-communist nations “convergence.”

The globalists and communists are masters of anodyne rhetoric. But lurking beneath the velvet-glove euphemisms of “globalization,” “convergence,” “not-free-market-based,” and “industrial-policy based” is the iron fist of Xi Jinping's “Socialism with Chinese Characteristics.” There currently are nine high-level TC members from China, all presumably members of the Chinese Communist Party (CCP), and the TC is in the forefront of promoting continued “engagement” with the Beijing dictatorship. Nikkei Asia's unnamed TC member also lamented the United States' shift toward “competition with China,” rather than viewing the totalitarian communist regime as the avowed adversary it has declared itself to be. This has been the standard line of TC members for decades and was recently underscored in an article, also by Nikkei Asia, about the December 2022 TC meeting in Tokyo, which ran under the headline “Shutting out China not the answer: Trilateral Commission members.”

Goal: World Government

According to the Nikkei Asia report on the New Delhi confab, the participants “were generally positive” about the wildly popular ChatGPT and later jokingly asked the bot to write a poem about the Trilateral Commission. The AI program came up with this witty (and revealing) ditty:

In secret meetings, you plan and conspire,
To create a new order, of which you aspire.
Your goals are unclear, but some see the end,
As a world government, with you as its friend.

Undoubtedly, the AI doggerel elicited a round of chuckles (and knowing approval) from the assembled elites. But it's hardly a laughing matter. For, as we have been reporting here for decades, world government with the Trilateral globalists (along with the Communists) in control has been — and still is — the master plan. We are not alone in so warning. In his book With No Apologies, U.S. Senator Barry Goldwater charged that the “The Trilateral Commission represents a skillful, coordinated effort to seize control and consolidate the four centers of power — political, monetary, intellectual and ecclesiastical.... What the Trilaterals truly intend is the creation of a worldwide economic power superior to the political governments of the nation-states involved.... As managers and creators of the system they will rule the future.”

Of course, the Trilateralists are not alone in this scheme; a plot so grandiose would be beyond the grasp even of this club of the high and mighty. To coordinate such a plan would require a vast global network involving movers and shakers with influence in the political, economic, social, scientific, academic, media, military, and religious fields. As we will see, that vast global network has been assembled. It is the work of many decades. However, before moving on to discuss these other partners in the globalist network, it may be helpful to remind everyone just what the Trilateral Commission is, who constitutes this global aristocracy, and why the actions and utterances of its members are worthy of note.

Enter the Trilaterals

The Trilateral Commission was founded in 1973 by the late David Rockefeller, billionaire patriarch of the Rockefeller banking dynasty, chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank (now JPMorgan Chase & Co., the world's largest bank) and chairman (1970-1985) of the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR). 1973 was the same year that Rockefeller (known by friend and foe alike as “Mr. Globalist”), leading a delegation of six Chase executives, visited Beijing for palavers with mass-murderers Mao Zedong and Zhou Enlai. He then returned to the United States to pen an op-ed for The New York Times entitled “From a China Traveler,” glorifying Mao's prison state. “One is impressed immediately by the sense of national harmony,” Rockefeller gushed, alleging that “there is very real and pervasive dedication to Chairman Mao and Maoist principles. Whatever the price of the Chinese Revolution, it has obviously succeeded not only in producing more efficient and dedicated administration, but also in fostering high morale and community of purpose.”

“The social experiment in China under Chairman Mao's leadership,” the uber-banker fantastically claimed, “is one of the most important and successful in human history.” Thus began the massive, decades-long transfer of capital, technology, and manufacturing wherewithal that has built Red China into the economic and military threat that it is today.

The Trilateral Commission membership comprises about 400 of the top-tier elite of power brokers in the worlds of finance, politics, media, technology, science, academia, military, and intelligence. President “China Joe” Biden has loaded up his administration with TC members, including Secretary of State Antony Blinken, National Economic Council Director Lael Brainard, Ambassador to China Nicholas Burns, Ambassador to India Ken Juster, International Monetary Fund First Deputy Managing Director David Lipton, Deputy Secretary of State Wendy Sherman, National Security Advisor Jake Sullivan, and Ambassador to Poland (and son of TC architect Zbigniew Brzezinski) Mark Brzezinski. Officially, they are listed on the TC roster as “former members” who are now “in public service.” Of course the most famous of the “public servants” who is on the TC member roll is former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, the Rockefeller protégé who set up the 1972 Nixon-Mao meeting and the 1973

Rockefeller/Chase visit to China.

Meet the Bilderbergers

If the meetings of the Trilateral Commission are super-secret and super-elite, the annual gatherings of the Bilderberg Group (BG) are even more so. Established in 1954, Bilderberg attendance is restricted to 120-150 of the crème de la crème of the New World Order oligarchy. David Rockefeller was long a big wheel at Bilderberg, and Kissinger, now 100, remains the éminence grise at the BG confabs. The gravelly voiced centenarian was in Lisbon, Portugal, for the 69th BG meeting held May 18 to 21, 2023, at the luxurious and historic Pestana Palace Hotel.

Aside from promoting the same agenda as the Trilateral Commission vis à vis China, what do these would-be Masters of the Universe have planned for us in the remainder of this year and the coming year? Economic collapse? A new digital currency? Expanded surveillance state? Global food shortages? Energy grid collapse? Pandemic 2.0? All of the above? We do not know precisely, but we can get a general idea of the ugly agenda the globalists are pursuing from the policies their puppets in business and government are implementing, as well as from the propaganda being dispensed by their paid “presstitutes” in favor of more Chinafication of the world and less freedom.

While including members of the Trilateral Commission, Bilderberg boasts a smaller and even more-select A-list of world movers and shakers of Big Finance, Big Business, Big Media, Big Tech, Big Pharma, and Big Government: Goldman Sachs, Deutsche Bank, Prudential, AXA, Google, Microsoft, Palantir, DeepMind, OpenAI, Shell, Pfizer, Merck, Bloomberg, The Economist, The Atlantic, Financial Times, Le Temps, NATO, the European Parliament, the European Commission, the U.S. federal government, etc. The group takes its name from the Hotel de Bilderberg in Oosterbeek, Netherlands, the location of its first meeting in 1954.

A brief BG press release announced that about 130 participants from 23 countries would be attending the Lisbon affair. “As ever,” the press release stated, “a diverse group of political leaders and experts from industry, finance, academia, labour and the media has been invited.”

Diversity? More Like Global Conformity

Diverse group? Well, diverse only in the sense that they come from diverse nationalities, occupations, and fields of expertise. They are completely homogenous and unified when it comes to worldview and ideology. They are all in on the Great Reset, their grand plan to “reset” humanity, as Klaus Schwab and the World Economic Forum (WEF) have infamously proposed and are relentlessly promoting. Don’t be fooled by false claims that Bilderberg and WEF are competing organizations. While the WEF is the larger, flashier organization with its annual Davos extravaganzas of billionaires, presidents, and prime ministers, it is a junior partner to Bilderberg in the globalist scheme of things. Almost all of the Bilderbergers are also WEFers, and Børge Brende of Norway, president of the World Economic Forum, was one of the oligarchs at this year’s Bilderberg meeting in Lisbon.

Bilderberg sits atop (or near the top) of the globalist pyramid of power, devising, revising, promulgating, and coordinating the latest blueprints for their development. The WEF, CFR, Royal Institute of International Affairs (RIIA, also known as Chatham House), Trilateral Commission, Council of Councils, Group of Thirty (G30), Club of Rome, Atlantic Institute, Aspen Institute, Brookings Institution, and similar organizations operate as transmission belts of the Bilderberg party line, as well as recruitment fields for placement and promotion of Bilderberg-selected candidates into key positions of world influence. Thus, in less than 70 years, Bilderbergers have become the insiders' insiders in the game of global machinations.

Kissinger, Rockefeller, and the “Secret Cabal” Admission

The grand doyen of Bilderberg is former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, who has been a participant of these events since 1957 (as well as a member of the group's Steering Committee for many years). The cadaverous Dr. K attended the Lisbon affair just days shy of his 100th birthday. He is following closely behind his patron and mentor David Rockefeller, a longtime presence on the Bilderberg Member Advisory Group, who died in 2017 at the age of 101.

In Memoirs, his 2002 autobiography, David Rockefeller made this startling confession:

For more than a century ideological extremists at either end of the political spectrum have seized upon well-publicized incidents such as my encounter with Castro to attack the Rockefeller family for the inordinate influence they claim we wield over American political and economic institutions. Some even believe we are part of a secret cabal working against the best interests of the United States, characterizing my family and me as “internationalists” and of conspiring with others around the world to build a more integrated global political and economic structure — one world, if you will. If that's the charge, I stand guilty, and I am proud of it.

Tyrannical Agenda, AI, CBDC

According to the Bilderberg press release, the “key topics for discussion” at this year's BG summit were AI, Banking System, China, Energy Transition, Europe, Fiscal Challenges, India, Industrial Policy and Trade, NATO, Russia, Transnational Threats, Ukraine, and US Leadership.

Although AI (artificial intelligence) heads the list of topics because the topics are listed alphabetically, there is no question that AI is indeed a top concern for the BG/WEF one-worlders. They understand its immense potential for reengineering and controlling human society. They want to not just be able to know every move you make and every breath you take, but also be able to monitor (and even control) every word you speak, everything you read, and every thought you think. So, for the past several years, AI has been a top priority for WEF events and WEF participants and contributors. Among the American AI leaders at BG this year were Sam Altman, CEO of OpenAI; Alex Karp, CEO of Palantir Technologies Inc.; Satya Nadella, CEO of Microsoft Corporation; Eric E. Schmidt, former CEO and chair of Google LLC; and Peter Thiel, president of Thiel Capital LLC. And collaborating with them on the political front are the following Biden administration apparatchiks who attended Bilderberg 2023: Director of National Intelligence Avril Haines, Director of the U.S. Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency Jen Easterly, Senior Director for Technology and National Security at the National Security Council Tarun Chhabra, and Senior Director for Strategic Planning at the National Security Council Thomas Wright.

Concerning the topics of “Banking System” and “Fiscal Challenges,” we can be fairly certain, based on the escalating propaganda push by the various globalist organizations and their allied think tanks as well as recent concrete moves by central banks and governments, that the Bilderberg elites discussed the means and timelines for implementing central bank digital currencies (CBDCs), along with the concomitant outlawing of cryptocurrencies outside of their control, and the eventual outlawing of cash.

“Master of the World”

In his keynote address to the assembled globalists at the 2023 World Government Summit (February 13-15), WEF top dog Klaus Schwab chillingly rhapsodized on the AI revolution. “And I agree,” he said, “artificial intelligence, but not only artificial intelligence, but also the metaverse, neospace technologies, and I could go on and on ... synthetic biology. Our life in ten years from now will be completely different, very much affected. And, who masters those technologies, in some way, will be the master of the world.” Schwab and the WEF held their annual “New Champions” summit in Tianjin, China, from June 27-29, 2023, with opening remarks by Premier Li Qiang, who is second only to Xi Jinping in the CCP thugocracy. It was more of the same a couple months earlier at the annual Boao Forum (March 28-31) in Bo’ao, China, with top globalists and communists singing the same convergence tune. All of this provides very disturbing clues about the tyrannical system Schwab and his TC/BG/WEF/CCP comrades plan to fasten upon the world economy under their deceptively labeled “stakeholder capitalism” and “inclusive capitalism.”

Communist China, the Globalist Model

On the topic of China, no “expert” — with the exception of Henry Kissinger — is currently more celebrated by the establishment than Dr. Elizabeth Economy, Biden’s top China hand. The Bilderberg press release describes her merely as “Senior Advisor for China, Department of Commerce.” Dr. Economy is much more than that, of course. In addition to writing many highly touted books and articles on China, she has taught at prestigious universities (Columbia, Stanford, Johns Hopkins) and served as a longtime senior fellow for the Council on Foreign Relations.

Because of her more recent, carefully measured criticism of China’s communist regime, Dr. Economy provides Team Biden with a thin camouflage to disguise its continuing pro-CCP policies on trade, energy, climate, technology transfers, capital investment, subversion, espionage, fentanyl, migration, and more. But it is all a rhetorical feint. President Donald Trump's China policies upset the 40-year pro-CCP (and anti-American) program of the Kissinger/CFR/WEF/BG cabal. Just as important, those policies also resonated with the American electorate, which could see the suicidal endgame of the cabal's pro-Beijing New World Order. So, Kissinger, Economy, and the rest of the globalist choir have had to dampen their public expressions of ardor for Chairman Xi's dictatorship. But, make no mistake, the globalists have not reversed their treasonous path vis à vis Communist China; the Trilateralists/Bilderbergers of Goldman Sachs, JPMorgan Chase, BlackRock, Carlyle Group, Google, Microsoft, et al., are pushing forward with their Great Reset.
