Quick Quotes

UN Official Calls for Worldwide Reduction of Fossil Fuel Usage

Inger Andersen

AP Images

"The world's governments must step up, taking rapid and immediate steps to close the fossil fuel production gap and ensure a just and equitable transition."

As executive director of the United Nations Environment Program, Inger Andersen wants to see more wind and solar power over the next three decades. Along with researchers at the Stockholm Environment Institute, she envisions seeing net zero emissions of greenhouse gases by the year 2050.

President Biden Defunded Border Wall, Wants a Wall Around His Beach House

"The southern border with Mexico is seeing the highest levels of illegal border crossings in 35 years, but the Department of Homeland Security has found one access point it can shore up — doling out $455,000 to a Delaware construction company for a fence around President Biden's Summer White House."

Halting construction of additional fencing at the border where some barriers had already significantly lowered the number of crossings into the United States by illegals was one of President Biden's first actions while in office. But, as the New York Post noted, Biden obviously believes that fences are useful in keeping out unwanted intruders.

Case Against Fauci Grows Stronger After NIH Admits Funding Research Creating COVID

Rand Paul

GageSkidmore

"We have brand new news today that says NIH is now admitting there was gain of function research [at the Wuhan Institute of Virology]. And Fauci has lied about it."

Citing a report appearing in Vanity Fair that confirms U.S. taxpayer money enabled the Wuhan Institute of Virology to enhance a bat coronavirus to allow it to attack humans, Senator Rand Paul (R-Ky.) continues to call for the firing of Dr. Anthony Fauci, who has repeatedly lied about such funding going to China.

Independent Journalists in Hong Kong Believe the End Is Near

"We shall try to fight to the last moment. But honestly, it's a gamble. How cruelly will the Beijing government treat us? We know the history of journalists in the People's Republic of China."

Unions, political parties, independent media, and civil-rights groups have been shut down, and many of their leaders have been imprisoned. Dozens more groups have been forced to disband. The authorities have used a national security law, which was introduced last year after months of widespread antigovernment protests, to silence dissent. Ronson Chan, the chairman of the Hong Kong Journalist's Association, expects to be targeted soon.

Independent Elementary and High Schools Experiencing a Surge in New Student Numbers

"This is a once-in-a-hundred moment for the growth of Christian education."

After nearly closing five years ago with only 88 students in K-12 classes, Smith Mountain Lake Christian Academy now has 420 students and has turned away others because of lack of space. E. Ray Moore, founder of the school, is not alone in filling formerly empty seats in the school he presides over. The growth in private Christian schools is being happily experienced throughout the United States.

Congressman Kicked Off Twitter for Refusing to Call a Man a Woman

Jim Banks

GageSkidmore

"The title of first female four-star officer gets taken by a man."

Congressman Jim Banks (R-Ind.) has been locked out of his Twitter account for referring to a Department of Health and Human Services appointee as a man. That man, known as Richard Levine for the first 54 years of his life, "transitioned" in 2011 and now wants to be known as Rachel. He was recently appointed by President Biden as a four-star admiral to lead the U.S. Public Health Service Commissioned Corps.
