President Claims He Has No Choice but to Build Border Wall

“The border wall — the money was appropriated for the border wall. I tried to get them to reappropriate it, to redirect that money. They didn’t. They wouldn’t. And in the meantime, there’s nothing under the law other than they have to use the money for what it was appropriated. I can’t stop that.”

President Joe Biden provided the above excuse for building 17 miles of border wall after being reminded that he had pledged not to build another foot of wall. When asked if he believes that the border wall works, he provided a one-word answer, “No.” But his budget requests for fiscal 2023 say otherwise: “The border wall system impedes and denies illicit cross-border activity by allowing law enforcement an increased response time and greater opportunity for successful law enforcement resolution.”

Residents Insist Biden’s Border Wall Is Being Built in the Wrong Place

“We were told that this was to curtail the flow of illegal immigrants into the country. If that is the case, and that’s what it’s for, then it’s being built in the wrong place.”

Starr County, Texas, is the area chosen by President Biden and his team of advisors for building 17 miles of fencing. Eloy Vera, the county’s top official, is not alone in pointing to the much greater need for fencing at El Paso or Eagle Pass, where a thousand illegal immigrants cross the Rio Grande into Texas every day. The choice of Starr County for his 17 miles of fencing provides President Biden with a response to critics of his de facto open-borders policy.

Kennedy Announces His Candidacy for President as an Independent

“The Democrats are frightened that I’m going to spoil the election for President Biden, and the Republicans are frightened that I’m going to spoil it for Trump. The truth is that they’re both right. My intention is to spoil it for both of them.”

Speaking to a crowd of supporters in Philadelphia on October 9, Robert F. Kennedy, Jr. said that his populist-style candidacy represented “a movement that defies left-right division.”

Author Claims Climate Science Has Been Hijacked and Politicized

“Activists have created a culture of self-censorship that’s enforced by a code of silence that Steven Koonin likens to the Mafia’s omerta.”

Steven Koonin authored Unsettled: What Climate Science Tells Us, What It Doesn’t, and Why It Matters. Climatologist Judith Curry has praised Koonin’s work and authored her own study of the topic in an important book entitled Climate Uncertainty and Risk: Rethinking Our Response. These two climatologists are among a growing number of colleagues who capably dispute the claims of political writers, government officials, and UN fright peddlers who are attempting to scare the public into advocacy of useless and dangerous methods of curing a problem that doesn’t exist.

Alabama Governor Kay Ivey pointed to the harmful consequences of the Biden administration's disastrous open-border policy in a warning to governors of other states. She has deployed hundreds of Alabama's National Guard to deal with the escalating situation.
