Remembering Heroic Doctor, Freedom Warrior Vladimir “Zev” Zelenko

To the great sorrow of millions of people, America lost one of her bravest and most dedicated adopted sons, Dr. Vladimir “Zev” Zelenko. After fighting cancer for four years, Zelenko passed away on June 30.

Zelenko was much more than a board-certified physician with more than two decades of professional experience. He was also an unapologetic freedom fighter who stood against the corrupt federal government and Big Pharma, and who deeply understood the grave danger that the anti-American forces posed to the physical life and civil liberties of Americans. While being despised, smeared, and attacked by those forces, he gained international recognition as a pioneer of successful early treatment and prophylaxis protocols that saved the lives of the most elderly and fragile patients.

His Zelenko Labs issued the following statement on his passing: “It is with immense sorrow that we announce the passing of our founder Dr. Vladimir ‘Zev’ Zelenko. Dr. Zelenko was a physician, scientist, and activist for medical rights who touched the lives of millions of people. Some were saved through his role as a doctor, and even more were inspired by his words.”

Zelenko was born in Kyiv, then part of Soviet Ukraine, in 1973. His family moved to the United States when he was three years old, and settled in the Sheepshead Bay neighborhood in Brooklyn, New York.

In 2000, Zelenko earned a Doctor of Medicine degree from the State University of New York at Buffalo. He then served as a longtime community physician in Kiryas Yoel, New York, where he was regarded by many as a beloved member of the community.

When the coronavirus made its way to America and hit New York, Zelenko dedicated his skills to finding an effective treatment, and quickly succeeded. In April 2020, he penned open letters to the medical community and to then-President Donald Trump, detailing his recommended treatment protocol using a combination of the anti-malaria drug hydroxychloroquine (HCQ), the antibiotic azithromycin, and zinc sulfate.

In testimony to the U.S. Senate Committee on Homeland Security in December 2020, Zelenko reported no Covid deaths among his high-risk patients. These included Holocaust survivors in their 90s, cancer patients, and diabetics, who typically had a 20-percent mortality rate.

The treatment was endorsed by President Donald Trump, who announced in May 2020 that he had started taking HCQ to prevent coronavirus infection after Zelenko had brought it to his attention.

Pharma-affiliated government “experts” rabidly criticized anyone who dared use Covid early treatments. Among them was Dr. Anthony Fauci, who sneered at the potency of safe and inexpensive HCQ, arguing that until it proves its worth in lengthy randomized clinical trials, it should not be used. That’s been going on since June 2020, when the U.S. Food and Drug Administration stripped the drug’s emergency use authorization (EUA), preventing distribution from the Strategic National Stockpile.

Zelenko worked tirelessly to perfect his prophylaxis and early-treatment protocols, which use well-studied, safe, and widely available medicines and vitamins, and can be found at VladimirZelenkoMD.com

Besides staying true to his medical profession despite all the hardships, Zelenko understood the pandemic on a much deeper, spiritual level. The pandemic, he believed, exposed the evil agenda of the elites, whose worldview was rooted in Darwin’s ideas of the survival of the fittest and eugenics, which “probably started with the Serpent in the Garden of Eden.” In that system, the elites decide whose life is worthy and whose is not.

The majority of the people, however, know that we are all “made in God’s image and we have human rights, and God’s prevue how many of us live on the planet and how long we live.”

The key to winning this existential battle is to get back to God, morality, and community.

Until his last days, Zelenko urged his supporters to actively resist tyranny.

“When and how you die is not under your control, but how you live is under your control,” he reminded all of us.
