

Written by John F. McManus on April 4, 2016

Published in the April 4, 2016 issue of the New American magazine. Vol. 32, No. 07

Quick Quotes

NRA Leader Recommends More Armed Personnel at Schools

“Millions of children are safer for one reason, the NRA. The only way to stop a bad guy with a gun is a good guy with a gun.”

Speaking at the annual Conservative Political Action Conference, NRA Vice President Wayne LaPierre elicited cheers from the mostly young people in attendance.

New Hampshire Newspaper Regrets Endorsing Chris Christie

“Boy, were we wrong. Rather than stand up to the bully, Mr. Christie bent his knee.”

Asking forgiveness of its readers, the Union Leader publicly apologized for backing the New Jersey governor after he endorsed Donald Trump for president.

Now That Gays Can March, New York Mayor Will March With Them

“The St. Patrick’s Day Parade is a New York City tradition. For years, Irish L.G.B.T. New Yorkers could not show their pride. Finally, they can celebrate their heritage by marching in a parade that now represents progress and equality.”

In past years, Mayor Bill deBlasio refused to march because homosexuals were barred from open participation in the parade.

Ruling Against a Florist Who Refused a Gay Couple Will Be Reviewed

“I never questioned their right to live out their beliefs. I just couldn’t see a way clear in my heart to honor God with the talents He has given me by going against the word He has given us.”

A lower court penalized florist Barronelle Stultzman for refusing to provide flowers for a same-sex wedding. Facing loss of her personal property and assets, her appeal of that ruling will now be heard by the Washington State Supreme Court.

FBI Investigation of Hillary Clinton’s E-mails Is One of Many Similar Probes

“In addition to the FBI investigation, there are continuing inquiries by the inspector general of the State Department, the inspector general of the intelligence agencies, the State Department’s Bureau of Diplomatic Security, and the House Select Committee on Benghazi.”

New York Times reporters

NRA Leader Recommends More Armed Personnel at Schools

“Millions of children are safer for one reason, the NRA. The only way to stop a bad guy with a gun is a good guy with a gun.”

Written by John F. McManus on April 4, 2016

Published in the April 4, 2016 issue of the New American magazine. Vol. 32, No. 07

Speaking at the annual Conservative Political Action Conference, NRA Vice President Wayne LaPierre elicited cheers from the mostly young people in attendance.

New Hampshire Newspaper Regrets Endorsing Chris Christie

“Boy, were we wrong. Rather than stand up to the bully, Mr. Christie bent his knee.”

Asking forgiveness of its readers, the Union Leader publicly apologized for backing the New Jersey governor after he endorsed Donald Trump for president.

Now That Gays Can March,
New York Mayor Will March With Them

“The St. Patrick’s Day Parade is a New York City tradition. For years, Irish L.G.B.T. New Yorkers could not show their pride. Finally, they can celebrate their heritage by marching in a parade that now represents progress and equality.”

In past years, Mayor Bill deBlasio refused to march because homosexuals were barred from open participation in the parade.

Ruling Against a Florist Who Refused a Gay Couple Will Be Reviewed

“I never questioned their right to live out their beliefs. I just couldn’t see a way clear in my heart to honor God with the talents He has given me by going against the word He has given us.”

A lower court penalized florist Barronelle Stultzman for refusing to provide flowers for a same-sex wedding. Facing loss of her personal property and assets, her appeal of that ruling will now be heard by the Washington State Supreme Court.

FBI Investigation of Hillary Clinton’s E-mails Is One of Many Similar Probes

“In addition to the FBI investigation, there are continuing inquiries by the inspector general of the State Department, the inspector general of the intelligence agencies, the State Department’s Bureau of Diplomatic Security, and the House Select Committee on Benghazi.”

New York Times reporters Stephen Lee Myers and Matt Appuzo didn’t point out that many other presidential candidates would likely have dropped out of the race if faced with similar probes and concerns about jeopardizing national security.

Neoconservative Leader Desperately Wants to Block the Trump Nomination

“The key task now, to once again paraphrase Karl Marx, is less to understand Trump than to stop him. In general, there’s a little too much hand-wringing, brow-furrowing, and fatalism out there and not enough resolving to save the party from nominating or the country electing someone who simply shouldn’t be president.”

At a closed-door meeting, GOP leaders and numerous corporate allies sought to devise a way to block

Written by John F. McManus on April 4, 2016

Published in the April 4, 2016 issue of the New American magazine. Vol. 32, No. 07

Donald Trump's nomination. The editor of the Weekly Standard magazine, William Kristol, summarized the main purpose of the gathering at Sea Island, Georgia.

Maine Governor Backs Trump for President

"He is not afraid of the political establishment. He's not afraid of lobbyists and special interests. And, most of all, he's not afraid of the United States liberal media. They dislike him almost as much as they hate me."

A no-nonsense maverick who won reelection in a three-person race, Governor Paul LePage is as outspoken as the man he supports for president. n

— Compiled by John F. McManus

and Matt Appuzo didn't point out that many other presidential candidates would likely have dropped out of the race if faced with similar probes and concerns about jeopardizing national security.

Neoconservative Leader Desperately Wants to Block the Trump Nomination

"The key task now, to once again paraphrase Karl Marx, is less to understand Trump than to stop him. In general, there's a little too much hand-wringing, brow-furrowing, and fatalism out there and not enough resolving to save the party from nominating or the country electing someone who simply shouldn't be president."

At a closed-door meeting, GOP leaders and numerous corporate allies sought to devise a way to block Donald Trump's nomination. The editor of the Weekly Standard magazine, William Kristol, summarized the main purpose of the gathering at Sea Island, Georgia.

Maine Governor Backs Trump for President

"He is not afraid of the political establishment. He's not afraid of lobbyists and special interests. And, most of all, he's not afraid of the United States liberal media. They dislike him almost as much as they hate me."

A no-nonsense maverick who won reelection in a three-person race, Governor Paul LePage is as outspoken as the man he supports for president. n

— Compiled by John F. McManus

Written by John F. McManus on April 4, 2016

Published in the April 4, 2016 issue of the New American magazine. Vol. 32, No. 07

Subscribe to the New American

Get exclusive digital access to the most informative, non-partisan truthful news source for patriotic Americans!

Discover a refreshing blend of time-honored values, principles and insightful perspectives within the pages of "The New American" magazine. Delve into a world where tradition is the foundation, and exploration knows no bounds.

From politics and finance to foreign affairs, environment, culture, and technology, we bring you an unparalleled array of topics that matter most.

Subscribe

What's Included?

- 24 Issues Per Year
- Optional Print Edition
- Digital Edition Access
- Exclusive Subscriber Content
- Audio provided for all articles
- Unlimited access to past issues
- Coming Soon! Ad FREE
- 60-Day money back guarantee!
- Cancel anytime.