Obama as Author

In the cover story entitled “Barack Obama’s Legacy” (March 6, 2017 issue) author Charles Scaliger said, “Persistent rumors that Ayers ghost-wrote one of Obama’s books have never been confirmed or refuted”. However, Bill Ayers confirmed that he did indeed write Dreams From My Father. This may be viewed in Chapter 11 of Joel Gilbert’s video production There’s No Place Like UTOPIA.

Also, I noticed when reading the book Dreams that the statement attributed to Obama while a college student extinguishing a match after lighting a cigarette is the same as a line spoken by Peter O’Toole in his lead role as Lawrence in Lawrence of Arabia, 1962. O’Toole spoke the words at the beginning of the film in the map room in the basement of British Army Headquarters in Cairo.

When I read Dreams, I found many instances of plagiarism and knew something was amiss. After lengthy study, I am confident that accusations of fraud are well-founded.

Democratic Destruction

The modern tools of destruction imposed by the Democrat Party led by B. Hussein Obama on our once-free country include:

- 1) Affirmative action: giving inferior candidates for a job preference if the candidates are black, female, illegal aliens, or insane;
- 2) Multiculturalism: giving preference in hiring, promotions, and immigrant visas to people from the cultures inimical to Western values;
- 3) Inclusiveness: promoting tolerance toward those who are intolerant of Western values, such as jihadist Muslims;
- 4) Hate speech: instituting legal action against people with opinions different from the approved opinions (approved by our MSM, socialists, communists, Eco-Nazis, liberals, progressives, Democrats, and leftist college professors);
- 5) Disparate impact: making it illegal to have job-specific criteria in order to obtain the best-suited workers for jobs, punishing conscientious employees rather than the perennially late and lazy, and discriminating against bigger and stronger males in jobs requiring physical prowess and endurance, such as policemen. In other words, criteria are blamed as an injustice to those who failed to meet a standard.
- 6) Racial profiling: making it illegal to use known facts to improve law enforcement, such as when the police concentrate their efforts to find killers among black gangs, where 70 percent of all murders are committed by three percent of the population (black males 18-30 years of age); and
- 7) Diversity: giving preference in hiring, promotions, and salary raises to people racially and culturally different from run-of-the-mill white Americans; also giving preference in granting immigrant and student visas to young Muslim males from Arab countries.

Obama's choices for the new leaders of our armed forces illustrate the above principles in bright colors. For example, General Casey declared, in the aftermath of the Fort Hood massacre perpetrated by the Islamist jihadist "Major" Hasan: "What happened at Fort Hood was a tragedy, but I believe it would be an even greater tragedy if our diversity program becomes a casualty."

And stupid, unenlightened Americans thought that the No. 1 priority of the U.S. armed forces was to "defend the country against enemies foreign and domestic."

Trading Away Traitors

Those of the press who distort and lie about the good things finally happening in America are traitors — and not worthy of American citizenship.

Maybe we can replace them with honest, law-abiding foreigners who are waiting to immigrate here properly and legally.

They are the ones who will appreciate our rich heritage and celebrate U.S. liberty, rather than try to tear down our Republic like the progressive socialists and the liberal media are doing.
