

Quick Quotes

Actor Not Surprised at Trump's "Attack" on LGBT People

"To those who believed Trump would be a friend to LGBTs, it's time to admit you were conned."

American actor, director, author, activist supporter of the LGBT lobby, and professed homosexual George Takei is classified by some in the media as a champion of "human rights."

Attorney General Targets Healthcare Fraud

"Too many trusted medical professionals like doctors and nurses and pharmacists have chosen to violate their oaths and put greed ahead of their patients. Some have made the practices into multi-million dollar enterprises."

Charging 412 medical professionals (56 doctors) with fraud that cost taxpayers $1.3 billion, Attorney General Jeff Sessions announced their arrests. He claimed that the fraudulent monetary arrangements contributed to the nation's opioid crisis.

Famed Arizona Sheriff Convicted for Targeting Immigrants

"Clearly, the election of Donald Trump shows that Joe Arpaio won the war but he lost this particular battle. Like any good American citizen, he recognized his obligation and was willing to pay the price for a form of civil disobedience."

As president of the Federation for American Immigration Reform, Dan Stein defended the embattled former Maricopa County (Arizona) sheriff who was convicted of violating laws that ban illegal stops and detentions.

Planned Parenthood Head Says Democrats Must Support Abortion

"Women's health and rights are non-negotiable — including access to abortion. We will hold any politician who says otherwise accountable."

Especially angered by Congressman Ben Ray Lujan (D-N.M.), the pro-life chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, Planned Parenthood leader Cecile Richards even claims that one can't be a Democrat if he or she won't support abortion.

UAW Rejected by Mississippi Workers

"I didn't have a 401(k) and I had only one week of vacation. Now I have four weeks of vacation. I'm off on every holiday. Nissan has provided a great living for me."

Contrasting what he had while formerly employed at a restaurant, Marvin Cooke now works as a paint technician at Mississippi's Nissan plant. Dealing the United Auto Workers a decisive blow, more than 60 percent of the workers rejected the union's attempt to become their bargaining agent.

Transgender Persons Prove to Be Expensive When in the Military

“[Officials representing the Army and the Marines] would say, ‘so now you’re telling me that we’re going to admit a cohort of people who almost by definition will need medical care.’”

Serving as acting undersecretary of defense for personnel and readiness during 2015-2016, Brad Carson recalls some of the objections to having transgender personnel in the military voiced then by senior military officials.

Attorney General Responds to Chicago Leader’s Defiance

“[Mayor Rahm Emanuel and other Chicago officials] have demonstrated an open hostility to enforcing laws to protect law enforcement — federal, state and local — and reduce crime. Instead, they have adopted an official policy of protecting criminal aliens who prey on local residents. The city’s leaders cannot follow some laws and ignore others and reasonably expect this horrific situation to improve.”

Angered by a threat to cut off federal funds for sanctuary cities, Mayor Emanuel filed suit against the Justice Department. His defiance elicited a justifiable response from Attorney General Jeff Sessions.
