QuickQuotes

England's Pro-Brexit Partisans Not Bending

"Instead of introducing more bans and regulations, we should use our departure from the E.U. to cut taxes, remove red tape, and move away from the big-state European model. This is a huge opportunity to remake the case for free-market conservatism."

Liz Truss, a senior treasury minister in the British government, and numerous allies who wish to divorce completely from the EU, know that Prime Minister Theresa May wants Britain to retain EU membership.

Immigration Foes Distraught After Trump's Immigration Reversal

"That Mr. Trump would advance the interests of the global elite ahead of our citizens would be a tragic reversal on any day. The White House has simply lost its way."

Fox News host Lou Dobbs has always been a strong Trump supporter. But he's not alone in disagreeing with the president about relying on foreigners rather than Americans to fill job openings.

Michael Cohen Paints a Curious Portrait of Himself

"I have lied, but I am not a liar. I have done bad things, but I am not a bad man. I have fixed things, but I am no longer your fixer Mr. Trump."

Testifying before a House committee, former Trump confidant Michael Cohen condemned himself and his past activity in hopes of being viewed as a man who has been reformed from a life full of misdeeds.

Number of Illegals Entering United States Sets a Record

"This is clearly both a border security and humanitarian crisis. The system is well beyond capacity and remains at the breaking point."

Concern at the border is nearly double what it was in 2018 because 76,000 illegal immigrants entered the United States in the month of February 2019. Kevin McAleenan, the U.S. commissioner of Customs and Border Protection, pointed to huge numbers continuing to cross the border every day, a problem beyond the capability of the undermanned Border Patrol to deal with.

Ocasio-Cortez Claims Role of "Boss" as She Moves Toward Socialism

"I am at least trying and they're not. So the power is in the hands of the person who's trying, regardless of the success. I'm the boss."

Referring to the so-called Green New Deal she co-authored, freshman U.S. Representative Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez (D-N.Y.) delights in the attention she and her extreme plan for socialism in the United States have received.

Hardline Republican Challenges Call for National Emergency

"If you think my job is to support the president one hundred percent, then you don't understand what it means to be a representative in Congress. My job is to support the Constitution one hundred percent and to represent the people of my district by protecting their rights."

President Mocks "Green New Deal"

"Somebody described it as a high school term paper written by a poor student."

He didn't name the author of the remark, but President Trump clearly enjoyed the mockery aimed at the comprehensive environmental plan presented by Representative Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez (D-N.Y.) and Senator Ed Markey (D-Mass.).
