What They Said

"I've spoken many times about my own family's refugee history. I will not join the chorus of people in this country or in this chamber who eagerly looked to slam shut an immigration door that was once open to our ancestors." — Illinois' Democratic Governor J.B. Pritzker delivered his State of the State address in February, asking the Legislature to approve $182 million to help address Chicago's illegal-alien crisis.

"These are 2-, 3-, 4-, 5-year-old kids. They buy them for sex. Almost all the time, they get off on probation after buying a child and raping a little child. And we tried to say, well, they need to at least serve a minimum of 4 years. Democrats voted 100 percent that they did not want to put these pedophiles in jail." — Colorado state Representative Scott Bottoms, a Republican, aired his discouragement on social media in February after committee Democrats killed House Bill 1092, which would have mandated minimum sentencing for pedophiles. Bottoms ended with a plea for help. "If you believe in prayer at all, please pray. We are fighting truly dark forces here." He also asked for experts to step forward to testify.

A "citizen journalist" for O'Keefe Media Group recorded a conversation with IRS criminal investigations officer Alex Mena.

Reporter: "So, A.I. [artificial intelligence] has access to, like, everybody's bank account?"

Mena: "They see the amount in your bank account, yes."

Reporter: "Is it constitutional to do that?"

Mena: "I doubt it. [laughs] They have no problem, like, going after the small people, you know, putting people in prison. Like, destroying people's lives. They have no problem doing that."

Reporter: "You would think that you would, like, have to have, like, evidence, right?"

Mena: "No, not with the IRS. They can audit, like, whoever they want."

He went on to say that the AI used to monitor private citizens is controlled by "the Department of Justice and the Inspector General."

The Alabama Supreme Court ruled in February that frozen embryos are children under state law, and that anyone who destroys them, willfully or accidentally, is liable under the state's 1872 Wrongful Death of a Minor Act. Citing the Alabama Constitution among other legal precedent, the concurring justices wrote, "All human beings bear God's image from the moment of conception.... Human life cannot be wrongfully destroyed without incurring the wrath of a holy God, who views the destruction of His image as an affront to Himself.... Even before birth, all human beings bear the image of God, and their lives cannot be destroyed without effacing his glory."

New York Attorney General Letitia James has been investigating former president Donald Trump since she was sworn in to office in 2019. Now that she has successfully prosecuted him for fraud, a compilation video is circulating on social media exposing her proving the object of her political malice correct:

"He's called me venomous..."

"We will fight back to your attempt to bring Trumpism to New York City!"

"He's called me disgraceful..."

"This is a result of the fact that they stole the Supreme Court seats — an illegitimate president and an illegitimate member of the United States Supreme Court.

"He has called me radical...

"We know he's crazy! We know he doesn't have a sound mind! We know he's out of control! We know he's losing it!

We know his days are numbered, and we will come together!

"He has called me a racist...

"We've got to stand up to an administration which is too male, too pale and too stale. Too male, too pale, and too stale! Too male, too pale, and too stale!"
