Archbishop Viganò: Upcoming Vatican Conference on Health Helping Build “Antichrist” “New World Order”

As globalist insiders continue to push for global government, the pontificate of Pope Francis is causing many — Catholics and non-Catholics alike — grave concern. Because Pope Francis has shown himself — time and again — not only to be out of step with the Church he leads, but also to be an active participant in the push for a New World Order. Case in point: the upcoming Fifth International Vatican Conference, which the Vatican is billing as “A Global Health Care Initiative.”

The conference, set to begin on May 6 and run through May 8, has an interesting list of speakers. That list includes such globalist insiders as Dr. Anthony Fauci, Chelsea Clinton, Pfizer CEO Dr. Albert Bourla, Moderna CEO Stéphane Bancel, UN representative and population-control advocate Jane Goodall, New Age activist Deepak Chopra, and a slew of Big Tech oligarchs. In fact, of the 114 speakers scheduled at the conference, only two of them are Catholic clergymen.

As LifeSiteNews reports:

Vaccine developers, Mormon elders, pro-abortion Chelsea Clinton, population control advocate Jane Goodall, a New Age activist, a prominent UK Muslim scholar, and a pro-abortion American actress known for posing nude, are all speakers at an upcoming Vatican conference on ‘health.’ There are only two Catholic clergy listed amongst the 114 speakers.

And LifeSiteNews is not the only media faithful to Catholic teaching that is taking a stand to expose the upcoming conference as a tool of the New World Order. The Remnant, which has been in publication since 1967 and has faithfully reported on the increasing decline of Catholicity in the leadership of the Catholic Church, carried a piece written by Archbishop Carlo Maria Viganò — who is well-known for publicly taking Pope Francis to task in the past over the coverup of the sexual abuse of young men by prominent Catholic leaders and other hot issues.

Archbishop Viganò’s article in The Remnant states:

This Conference — along with the Council for Inclusive Capitalism of Lynn Forester de

Rothschild, the Global Compact on Education, and the inter-religious Pantheon to be held in June in Astana, Kazakhstan — is the umpteenth scandalous confirmation of a disturbing departure of the current Hierarchy, and in particular its highest Roman members, from Catholic orthodoxy. The Holy See has deliberately renounced the supernatural mission of the Church, making itself the servant of the New World Order and Masonic globalism in an antichristic counter-magisterium. The same Roman Dicasteries, occupied by people ideologically aligned with Jorge Mario Bergoglio and protected and promoted by him, now continue unrestrained in their implacable work of demolishing Faith, Morals, ecclesiastical discipline, and monastic and religious life, in an effort as vain as it is unprecedented to transform the Bride of Christ into a philanthropic association enslaved to the Strong Powers. The result is the super-imposition over the true Church of a sect of heretical and depraved Modernists who are intent on legitimizing adultery, sodomy, abortion, euthanasia, idolatry, and any perversion of the intellect and will. The true Church is now eclipsed, denied and discredited by her very Pastors, betrayed even by the one who occupies the highest Throne.

Archbishop Viganò goes on to assert that the conference is part of an “infernal plan” born of the incestuous relationship between “the deep church” and “the deep state.”

Addressing the clear agenda of the conference, evidenced by the list of godless infidels slated to speak and by the fact that five prominent journalists — “who are exclusively from left-wing media outlets such as CNN, MSNBC, CBS and Forbes” — have been chosen to moderate the conference, Viganò writes:

On closer inspection, the sectarianism and partisanship of the Vatican Conference are made evident by the topic it addresses, the conclusions it seeks to draw, its participants, and its sponsors. Even the image chosen to promote the Conference is extremely eloquent: a close-up of Michelangelo’s fresco of Creation on the Sistine Chapel ceiling, in which the hand of God the Father reaches out towards the hand of Adam, but with both hands covered by disposable surgical gloves, recalling the regulations of the new “health liturgy” and implying that even the Lord Himself might spread the virus.

This choice of imagery has an aberrant and blasphemous ring to it, because it uses a well-known and evocative image to insinuate and promote a false and tendentious narrative that says that in the presence of a seasonal flu, whose virus has still not been isolated according to Koch’s postulates (here) and that can be effectively cured using existing treatments, it is necessary to administer vaccines that are admitted to be ineffective and that are still in the experimentation phase, with unknown side-effects, and whose producers have obtained a criminal shield of immunity for their distribution. The victims immolated on the altar of the health Moloch, from children dismembered in the third month of pregnancy in order to produce the gene serum to the thousands of people who have been killed or maimed, do not stop the infernal machine of Big Pharma, and it is to be feared that there will be a resurgence of the phenomenon over the next few months.

In an interview predating his article in The Remnant, Viganò told that publication that agents of the New World Order have used the “pretext of the so-called pandemic” to drive wedges in society:

The establishment of the New Order, begun under the pretext of the so-called pandemic, makes the loss of inner peace and serenity perceptible to many; it makes us perceive an evil that overwhelms us and before which we feel powerless; it sharpens divisions and disputes between family members, relatives, and friends. Very often we are saddened to see how the lie succeeds in convincing people close to us whom we had believed to be mature and capable of discerning good from evil. It seems incredible to us that our friends have allowed themselves to be deceived, indeed I would almost say to be hypnotized, by the drumbeat of the mainstream media: doctors whom we considered conscientious seem to have canceled their own scientific knowledge by abdicating rationality in the name of a sort of crazy superstition; acquaintances who up until yesterday condemned the horrors of Nazism and Communism do not realize how much the horrors of those dictatorships are being re-proposed in an even more inhuman and ruthless form, replicating on a wider scale the experimentation of the concentration camps and the violation of the natural rights of the world population. We cannot understand how it can be that our parish priest speaks to us about Covid as if it were a plague, that the mayor behaves like a hierarch, that a neighbor calls the police because a family organizes a barbecue on the terrace. Elderly people who once fought valiantly and risked their lives are now literally terrorized by a treatable flu. Fathers of families with solid moral principles tolerate their children being indoctrinated into vice and perversion, as if what has been passed on to them and what they believe in no longer has any value. Speaking about love of one's country, the defense of national borders, and national sovereignty is now considered fascist. And we ask ourselves: where is the Italy that we have loved? Where is the Church that instructed us in the Faith and made us grow in the Grace of God? Is it possible that all of this has been canceled in just a few years?

And again addressing the incestuous relationship between the Deep Church and the Deep State, Viganò — sounding for all the world like a member of The John Birch Society — correctly states:

It is obvious that what is now happening has been planned for decades, both in the civil sphere as well as the religious. And many people, very many, have been deceived: first by convincing them to grant rights to those who share neither our Faith nor our values, then by making them feel almost guilty for the fact of being Catholic, for their ideas, for their past. Today we have reached the point of being barely tolerated as retrogrades and fanatics, while there are those [who] would like to make it a crime to do what has constituted the basis of civilized life for millennia and declare every behavior against God, against nature, and against our identity not only licit but obligatory.

Viganò's above-quoted article in The Remnant makes reference to a church-approved apparition of the Blessed Virgin Mary at La Salette-Fallavaux, France in 1846. He states:

At La Salette, Our Lady warned us: "Rome will lose the Faith and become the seat of the Antichrist." It will not be the Holy Church, indefectible by the promises of Christ, that will lose the Faith: it will be the sect that occupies the See of Most Blessed Peter and which today we see propagating the anti-gospel of the New World Order. It is no longer possible to remain silent, because today our silence would make us accomplices of the enemies of God and of the human race. Millions of faithful are disgusted by the countless scandals of the Pastors, by the betrayal of their mission, by the desertion of those who by Holy Orders are called to bear witness to the Holy Gospel and not to support the establishment of the kingdom of the Antichrist.

That Rome has lost the Faith is painfully evident. The once-rhetorical question, “Is the Pope Catholic?” now actually requires an answer — and that answer appears to be a resounding “No.”
