Shocked? After BLM, Anti-white Hate Crimes SURGED

While there has been, understandably, much talk since Covid about anti-Asian hate crime, there has been virtually none about the hate crime that dare not speak its name. But this doesn't mean bias crimes against whites don't happen. In fact, they've increased precipitously since neo-Marxist group Black Lives Matter's birth.

As America Insider reports:

The FBI has released statistics which reveal that anti-white crimes in the U.S. have increased by nearly 40% since 2018, whom experts believe is largely driven by the rise of Black Lives Matter.

The studies additionally showed that mainstream media and BLM's narrative of "institutional racism" and a general targeting of minority citizens is false, as such numbers have been on [sic] decline.

In 2022, white citizens committed 51% of the hate crimes, and made up just over 75% of the U.S. population. [Note: These numbers would include Hispanics in the "white" category].

Black citizens committed just over 20% of the hate crimes, and made up just over 13% of the population.

Hate crimes against Jews also rose, 36 percent from 2021 to 2022.

Below is a series of tweets relating the hate crime statistics.

None of this will surprise astute observers. While anti-white agitation goes back more than half a century — feminist Susan Sontag said in 1967 that the "white race is the cancer of human history" — this prejudice has intensified in recent years.

For example, it's not correct to say that history textbooks, documentaries, and entertainment inundate us with stories about slavery and civil rights abuses; no, they inundate us with stories about whites' practice of slavery and abuse of civil rights. There are movies such as Roots and Mississippi Burning but none of note about the Aztecs' or Shaka Zulu's domination of neighboring peoples, or the current African slave trade, or late Zimbabwean "president" Robert Mugabe's persecution of whites and political opponents. Then, relating the American history guidelines of a prominent textbook publisher, the author of The Language Police, Diane Ravitch, writes:

"European Americans, the guidelines suggest, were uniquely responsible for bigotry and exploitation in all human history."

Prominent website Salon apparently agrees, too. In 2015, it published a piece titled, "White men must be stopped: The very future of mankind depends on it."

"For 500 years, they've exploited their fellow man and plundered the planet," read the subhead. "It's time they rein themselves in."

My, if only they'd stop mincing words and tell us how they really feel.

And as political correctness metastasized into wokeness, the anti-white bigotry intensified further. We hear about "white privilege," "white supremacy," "white fragility," and "white rage," as demagogues and propagandists have learned that beating up on whitey can increase power, position, and pocketbook.

Then, on Sunday, a self-professed "thought leader" named Yaba Blay was seen in a video (below) saying, "White people, your money will not assuage your way out of guilt. You cannot pay your way out of this. There aren't enough reparations in the world that you can pay us."

Given this anti-white agitation, the only surprise would be if hate crimes against whites weren't increasing. In fact, one could argue that what's occurring accords with organization Genocide Watch's Stage IV of the genocidal process, "dehumanization."

Yet while anti-white hate crimes are legion, it takes some internet sleuthing to find much information about them. Put the phrase "list of anti-white hate crimes" into a typical search engine (read: propaganda engine), and left-wing sources will dominate the first several result pages at least, and virtually no users go beyond the first three. But a few relevant sources are here, here, and here.

Even they, however, perhaps don't tell the tale. As X user "thomas Crown" put it, responding to the hate-crime-statistics tweets above, "Anti-White hate crimes would be a lot higher but police, law enforcement in general, and DOJ are not willing to label black attacks on whites as hate crimes."

Respondent "Steve" opined likewise. "And these are the only ones reported as such," he wrote. "How many times have we seen the 'we may never know what [sic] he carried out this attack' [dodge]."

A good example might've been the 2020 murder of white five-year-old North Carolinian Cannon Hinnant by 25-year-old black neighbor Darius Sessoms. Sessoms ran up to the child and shot him point-blank in the head, execution style. To this day, police have not released information on a motive. The mainstream media don't help, either: While they couldn't devote enough ink to the deaths of criminals such as Michael Brown and George Floyd, the execution of little Cannon was quickly memory-holed.

And, just occasionally, authorities will confess the anti-white double standard's existence. Consider what the liberal Guardian wrote in 2006 already, citing officials in Britain:

Senior police officers have admitted that ‘political correctness’ and the fear of discussing the issue have meant that race crime against white people goes under-reported.

...Peter Fahy, the Chief Constable of Cheshire and a spokesman on race issues for the Association of Chief Police Officers, said it was a fact that it was harder to get the media interested where murder victims were young white men.

‘The political correctness and reluctance to discuss these things absolutely does play a factor’, he said. ‘A lot of police officers and other professions feel almost the best thing to do is try and avoid it for fear of being criticised.

This problem certainly wasn’t much better on our side of the pond, and it’s certainly worse now, 17 years later.

But, hey, white people, don’t fret — you’ve always got that “privilege” to fall back on.
