USA Today Names Richard “Rachel” Levine One of Its “Women of the Year”

One of the most prominent leftist media bullhorns switched the insanity to full blast yesterday.

USA Today named Richard “Rachel” Levine, the man-lady whom President Joe Biden made the No. 2 federal health official, one of its women of the year.

And no, before you ask, this is not a report from Babylon Bee.

Naturally, Twitter hilarity ensued. So did Twitter rage.

“Tremendous Worth”

“Every day across our country, USA TODAY’s Women of the Year lead and inspire, promote and fight for equity, give others a place to seek help and find hope,” the national newspaper proclaimed:

They are strong and resilient women who have been champions of change and courage, often quietly, but with powerful results. And often despite their own challenges....

Each has an inspiring and powerful story.

Among the honorees are Melinda French Gates, the estranged wife of Microsoft gazillionaire Bill Gates, along with Roopali Desai, Cheryl Horn, Kizzmekia Corbett, and seven others, six of whom you’ve never heard of and don’t want to. Also on the list is gymnast Simone Biles.

Levine is not a woman, of course, but ignore that scientific fact momentarily.

The newspaper is posting video interviews of the honorees to its website. The teaser for Levine’s, which is “coming soon,” features this comment:

You have worth, you have tremendous worth, just for who you are. No matter who you love, no matter who you are, no matter what your gender, than any sexual orientation or anything else.

Profundity is not one of Mr. Levine’s strong suits.

In October, Biden named Levine a four-star admiral in the U.S. Public Health Service Commissioned Corps, which is not one of the five armed services.

The Reaction

Now, for the reaction to USA Today’s admission that its editors might be crazier than Levine.

“She truly worked her bs off in order to achieve this prestigious honor,” Twitter celebrity Greg Price tweeted.

“Congratulations, brave and beautiful, former-male Admiral Rachel Levine, for being one of USA Today’s ‘Women of the Year’ just for wearing a dress,” political humorist Stephen Crowder wrote.

“Richard Leland Levine born Oct 28, 1957,” user JailiMarie tweeted:

In 1988 he married his wife & had 2 kids. Married for 25 yrs. Transitioned to a woman in 2011. His wife divorced him in 2013.

He lived his life as a man for 54 yrs! And @USATODAY gives him Women of the Year??
DEMS DO NOT SUPPORT WOMEN!!

“What’s even the point of the list anymore?,” another wrote. “Insulting to women.”

“First it was sports,” another tweet says:

The Democrat left are trying to erase women:

Other simply repeated the news and included amusing photos:

Castrate Your Kids

Levine, who is either mentally ill or sexually aroused by wearing womens’ attire, favors mutilating kids, as the Washington Examiner reported when the U.S. Senate confirmed him last year.

“The first phase at the young adolescent age is to give what is called a pubertal blocker, to give a medicine to block the progression of puberty, so you don’t go through the wrong puberty,” he said in 2017.

He would chemically castrate kids with “cross-gender hormones.”

Continued Levine:

They never go through the wrong puberty. That way, for a transgender woman, male to female, their voice doesn’t drop, they don’t have hair, they don’t have to have electrolysis. For a transgender man, they don’t have breast development that will need surgery, they don’t have periods, etc.

So you block puberty ... and then at the appropriate time send them through the puberty consistent with their gender identity.

And Biden actually thought appointing this dangerous man to be the assistant secretary of Health and
