Democrats Seek the Porn-addict Vote. Porn Stars Enter Campaign

Anyone who thinks the abortion van that Democrats stationed outside their convention in Chicago was extreme should get a look at the latest.

Two far-left groups aligned with the party have broadcast an ad that features a man in a sex act while looking pornography on a computer when a supposed GOP legislator breaks in to stop him.

The point: Let the porn addicts of America know that a Republican lawmaker is outside the door waiting to invade your privacy.

As well, the porn industry has entered the campaign on the side of Vice President Kamala Harris.

And just to keep things exciting, the party is running an Only Fans porn star for office in Michigan. Normal Americans ask a good question: Why is the Democrat Party so obsessed with sex?

Get Young Men to Vote Harris

The ridiculous, 30-second ad, which falsely suggests that Republicans are on an anti-porn crusade this election, came from Progress Action Fund and Defend the Vote, The Hill reported.

Title: “Republicans Rubbing You the Wrong Way.”

A GOP legislator breaks into the man’s room while he’s masturbating. “What the hell man! How’d you get in here?” the man asks.

Replies the lawmaker: “I’m your Republican congressman. Now that we’re in charge, we’re banning porn nationwide.”

The onanist orders the congressman to leave. “You can’t tell me what to do! Get out of my bedroom, you creep!”

“I won the last election, so it’s my decision,” the congressman says. “I’m just going to watch and make sure you don’t finish illegally.”

Reported The Hill:

Though the ad is largely hyperbolic in nature — no political party is seriously likely to ban porn at the federal level — the advertising is a part of a broader argument Democrats are making about Republicans: that they're interfering in people's personal lives.

A number of states have, however, taken action in recent years to tighten access to pornography, including at least 19 states that require age verification to access online pornography, according to the Age Verification Providers Association.

The ad is also notable in that it is targeted toward young men, a demographic both presidential campaigns have been courting. A Democratic pollster expressed concern that the Trump campaign could be making inroads with the group in a recent New York Times op-ed.

Former President Trump is making "inroads" with a lot of groups. This is one reason he is now 0.4 point ahead of Harris in the RealClearPolitics average of national polls, an increase from yesterday's 0.1.

Trump also leads in all the battleground states but Michigan.

Porn Stars for Harris

Speaking of Michigan, the Libs of TikTok X feed reminded readers today that a Democratic candidate for the Michigan House of Representatives in the states' 37th district, Angela Jones, deleted her Only Fans porn page.

In July, Real News Michiana reported (Warning: graphic material at hyperlink) that "Angela Jones would charge people money to gain access to graphic videos and pictures showing her having sex, masturbating and posing nude."

Amusingly, on her campaign website, the 42-year-old Jones says she "turned my [photography] business into a successful career focusing on people (literally) and helping them overcome self confidence issues."

But Jones is only one porn star involved in the 2024 election.

In early October, The New York Times reported that 17 porn actors were involved in the presidential campaign.

They opened a "$100,000 ad campaign on porn sites warning that Project 2025 — the Heritage Foundation blueprint for a Republican administration that has been a centerpiece of some Democratic campaigns — wants to ban pornography and imprison people who produce it," the Times reported.

The ad will appear in battleground states, and with good reason: They know that Harris is in big trouble, the Times reported:

The architects of the "hands off my porn" campaign are nothing if not aware of the polling. Vice President Kamala Harris is losing to former President Donald J. Trump among men, but younger men might be winnable — and pornographic websites are among the most heavily trafficked on the internet.

Quoting the Survey Center on American Life, the group said younger men are the biggest consumers of the industry's products: Among men aged 18-29, 44 percent had watched porn within the past month. Among men aged 30-49, it was 57 percent.

The porn stars are right to worry.

Trump in the Lead

As The New American reported yesterday, for the first time since Harris entered the race, Trump has taken the lead in the RCP average. But that lead, again, has grown 0.3 points , although Harris now leads Trump in Michigan by 0.3.

□ 2024 Election Update: Combined Models Probability as of October 21st

Our Quantus models (Election models, Modus: Battleground, Consensus and Concordia) show a widening gap between Trump and Harris:

□ Trump:

Electoral Votes: 312

Probability: 63% (+2% change)

□ Harris:... pic.twitter.com/6COoPdkPCy

Trump narrowly leads Harris in the other six swing states. Election forecasters predict a Trump victory in the Electoral College. Indeed, one model showed 312-226 Trump electoral triumph.

The poll numbers aside, the news about the Democratic Party's strong ties to the porn and abortion industries, along with its tight friendship with the Lavender Lobby, to say nothing of its support for "transgenders," suggest that its single concern is sexual license.
