

Written by Thomas R. Eddlem on July 20, 2009

Economic Predictions: Ben Bernanke v. Peter Schiff

Our politicians in Washington (especially the Obama administration) are following the economic policies of Federal Reserve Chairman Ben Bernanke, who made these economic predictions over the past four years (YouTube Video):

But they are ignoring the economic recommendations of Austrian School economist Peter Schiff, who made the following economic predictions over the same four years (YouTube Video):

{modulepos inner_text_ad}

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2I0QN-FYkpw>

Today, they still disagree.

Ben Bernanke says the worst of the recession is over and a recovery has already started, while Peter Schiff believes we are not through the recession and that a recovery is a long way off. Bernanke says the federal government needs to keep spending through "stimulus" measures to get out of the recession, but Schiff says we need to spend less or the recession will get worse.

Based upon their past history, which one do you believe?

And more importantly, what will you do about it?

Subscribe to the New American

Get exclusive digital access to the most informative, non-partisan truthful news source for patriotic Americans!

Discover a refreshing blend of time-honored values, principles and insightful perspectives within the pages of "The New American" magazine. Delve into a world where tradition is the foundation, and exploration knows no bounds.

From politics and finance to foreign affairs, environment, culture, and technology, we bring you an unparalleled array of topics that matter most.

What's Included?

- 24 Issues Per Year
- Optional Print Edition
- Digital Edition Access
- Exclusive Subscriber Content
- Audio provided for all articles
- Unlimited access to past issues
- Coming Soon! Ad FREE
- 60-Day money back guarantee!
- Cancel anytime.

Subscribe