

Written by R. Cort Kirkwood on December 7, 2020

Chicago Teachers Union Deletes Crazy Tweet, Retweets Same Claim. Twitter Feed Needs Adult Supervision.

A metaphysical certitude: The Chicago Teachers Union is a collection of crackpots more woke than the wokest crackpots on the Left.

The evidence: its Twitter feed.

A recently deleted tweet said reopening schools so kids can go to class is racist, sexist, and misogynist. How so, the union did not explain, and despite deleting the claim, it retweeted other users who said the same thing.

Yet a look at the running commentary on the union's anonymously written feed shows that all the obsessions of the crackpot Left, particularly "racism," obsess the city's perpetually angry pedagogues.

The Tweet

"The push to reopen schools is rooted in racism, sexism, and misogyny," CTU tweeted:

Twitter

ChicagoTeachersUnion
@CTULocal1

The push to reopen schools is rooted in sexism, racism and misogyny.

12:03 PM · 12/6/20 · Twitter for iPhone

80 Retweets 358 Quote Tweets 262 Likes

Not surprisingly, answers to the nutty claim came quickly:

“Some people really don’t like doing their jobs,” tweeted Grant Addison, deputy editor of the Washington Examiner.

Some people really don’t like doing their jobs <https://t.co/VRVtpcvuX6>

— Grant Addison (@jgrantaddison) December 6, 2020

Another user was more acerbic:

@ChicagoTeachersUnion is a perfect example of why “we can’t seem to fix stupid”, because the teacher’s Union is bat st ☐ crazy and indoctrinates our children with this insanity.

@ChicagoTeachersUnion is a perfect example of why “we can’t seem to fix stupid”, because the teacher’s Union is bat shit ☐ crazy and indoctrinates our children with this insanity.

<https://t.co/JyQo7fb356>

— Karen C Combest (@KCCombest) December 7, 2020

“When they you tell it’s about safety, it’s about power over others,” another tweet said.

Written by R. Cort Kirkwood on December 7, 2020

When they tell you it's about safety, it's about power over others.

Chicago Teachers Union Tweets Reopening Schools Would be Racist, Sexist, AND Misogynistic - And Then Deletes It! [Updated] <https://t.co/8sYuNdP5mk>

— Scott Coleman (@bandphan) December 7, 2020

Thus chastened, CTU deleted the daffy remark, but then followed with this:

Fair enough. Complex issue. Requires nuance. And much more discussion. More important, the people the decision affects deserve more. So we'll continue give them that.

Appreciate the feedback of those truly in the struggle.

Fair enough. Complex issue. Requires nuance. And much more discussion. More important, the people the decision affects deserve more. So we'll continue give them that.

Appreciate the feedback of those truly in the struggle.

— ChicagoTeachersUnion (@CTULocal1) December 6, 2020

What that means is a mystery, but anyway, when Mayor Lori Lightfoot tweeted that “vaccines save lives,” which itself is debatable in the case of the Chinese Virus, CTU answered with this: “So does being allowed the opportunity to work remotely during a raging pandemic.”

So does being allowed the opportunity to work remotely during a raging pandemic.

<https://t.co/v6fOYbse5a>

— ChicagoTeachersUnion (@CTULocal1) December 4, 2020

Other Tweets

Though CTU deleted the silly tweet about reopening schools and “racism,” it didn't back down. It tweeted something similar later on Sunday, and retweeted other users who expressed the same sentiment.

Tweeted nonsense:

We hit all the nerves today. Imagine if that passion had be there long before COVID-19. Perhaps Black and Brown families wouldn't be so mistrustful of a system—and a society—that doesn't value their lives.

We hit all the nerves today. Imagine if that passion had be there long before COVID-19. Perhaps Black and Brown families wouldn't be so mistrustful of a system—and a society—that doesn't value their lives. <https://t.co/0YHbudae4H>

— ChicagoTeachersUnion (@CTULocal1) December 7, 2020

“COVID-19 is deadly for Black and Brown minorities,” one user agreed:

Written by R. Cort Kirkwood on December 7, 2020

Some people, “My family and I got COVID and we survived, they’ll be alright, open the schools” When hear things like this I wonder do they want to open the schools to kill more Black and Brown minorities...I’m just saying.

□ COVID-19 is deadly for Black and Brown minorities. Some people, “My family and I got COVID and we survived, they’ll be alright, open the schools” When hear things like this I wonder do they want to open the schools to kill more Black and Brown minorities...I’m just saying.

— I_Am_Jay_□ (@jaythegr8t1) December 7, 2020

Yet CTU’s Twitter feed is much more than a litany of pleas to stay home and hide from the virus because of “racism.” It’s a clearinghouse for left-wing grievances, and is particularly fixated on imaginary racial wrongs.

And so CTU retweeted this:

Been feeling this lately. We can discuss the merits of reopening but the conversation cannot be rooted in white supremacy. White folks questioning BIPOC’s intelligence, especial women of color. Our ability to “understand the science.” The coded language is hella out of pocket.

Been feeling this lately. We can discuss the merits of reopening but the conversation cannot be rooted in white supremacy. White folks questioning BIPOC's intelligence, especial women of color. Our ability to "understand the science." The coded language is hella out of pocket. <https://t.co/xL1GkFGzGG>

— Ish the Dish (@Ish_the_Dish) December 6, 2020

On Friday, the union tweeted openly anti-white propaganda about “white-male mediocrity” from Ijeoma Oluo, a heretofore unknown writer who will, undoubtedly, be a leading candidate for a Nobel prize or MacArthur genius grant:

White male mediocrity seems to impact every aspect of our lives, and yet it only seems to be people who aren’t white men who recognize the imbalance.

“White male mediocrity seems to impact every aspect of our lives, and yet it only seems to be people who aren’t white men who recognize the imbalance.” <https://t.co/ysvK90DlzU>

— ChicagoTeachersUnion (@CTULocal1) December 4, 2020

And not surprisingly, the outfit peddles propaganda about the anti-white, anti-American Black Panthers of the 1960s. So also on Friday, it retweeted the claim that Mark Clark and Fred Hampton, two Panthers killed in a police raid in 1969, were “assassinated.”

On Dec. 4, 1969, Chicago Black Panthers Fred Hampton and Mark Clark were assassinated

Written by R. Cort Kirkwood on December 7, 2020

by Chicago Police and the FBI pic.twitter.com/N3FZL1dixd
— Haymarket Books (@haymarketbooks) December 4, 2020

The union also backs defund-the-police activists. On Wednesday, it retweeted the false narrative that police are wantonly killing blacks for no reason.

"With all due respect, Mr. President—let's talk about losing people. We lost Michael Brown Jr. We lost Breonna Taylor. We're losing our loved ones to police violence. It's not a slogan. It's a mandate for keeping our people alive."- @CoriBush
#DefundPolicehttps://t.co/zYMugdoaRp

— Our Revolution (@OurRevolution) December 2, 2020

H/T: Fox News

Subscribe to the New American

Get exclusive digital access to the most informative, non-partisan truthful news source for patriotic Americans!

Discover a refreshing blend of time-honored values, principles and insightful perspectives within the pages of "The New American" magazine. Delve into a world where tradition is the foundation, and exploration knows no bounds.

From politics and finance to foreign affairs, environment, culture, and technology, we bring you an unparalleled array of topics that matter most.

What's Included?

- 24 Issues Per Year
- Optional Print Edition
- Digital Edition Access
- Exclusive Subscriber Content
- Audio provided for all articles
- Unlimited access to past issues
- Coming Soon! Ad FREE
- 60-Day money back guarantee!
- Cancel anytime.

Subscribe