Shame White Children With BLM Propaganda — and Get Rich in the Process

How “can we in any of our minds conclude that whites are alright?” The preceding was found in a letter, reports journalist Megyn Kelly, circulated by someone who helps devise school curricula.

Welcome to the United States’ real “systemic racism.”

It’s no wonder that “Kelly — along with her kids — has decided to escape New York,” writes A.J. Rice at BPR. “A place where her kids are the object of official race vitriol produced by Nahliah Webber, the executive of something called the Orleans Public Education Network (OPEN). It sounds bland but it’s as radical – and racial – as it gets.”

It’s as profitable as it gets, too. Another race hustler, Sharroky Hollie, had a contract with the Sarasota, Florida, school system to give seven 30-minute lectures on white badness for $115,000, according to Rice. (I really need to take a lesson from these people on how to make money.)

Kelly made news recently when she announced that, after the aforementioned letter was sent to her and other parents in a school “diversity group,” she was pulling her boys out of their “exclusive” Manhattan institution, the Collegiate School — tuition: $55,900 a year.

It had the best propaganda money could buy. The letter, sent by Webber, attests to this and warrants reproduction in toto. As Daily Wire relates:

There is a killer cop sitting in every school where white children learn.

They gleefully soak in their whitewashed history that downplays the holocaust of indigenous native peoples and Africans in the Americas. They happily believe their all-white spaces exist as a matter of personal effort and willingly use violence against black bodies to keep those spaces white.

As black bodies drop like flies around us by violence at white hands, how can we in any of our minds conclude that whites are alright?

White children are left unchecked and unbothered [obviously not] in their schools, homes, and communities to join, advance, and protect systems that take away black life.

I am tired of white people reveling in their state-sanctioned depravity, snuffing out black life with no consequences.

Where’s the urgency for school reform for white kids being indoctrinated in black death and protected from the consequences?

Where are the government-sponsored reports looking into how white mothers are raising culturally deprived children who think black death is okay?

Where are the national conferences, white papers and policy positions on the pathology of whiteness in schools?

This time if you really want to make a difference in black lives — and not have to protest this s[]t again — go reform white kids. Because that's where the problem is — with white children being raised from infancy to violate black bodies with no remorse or accountability.

Below is audio of Kelly discussing the situation.

'After years of resisting it, we're going to leave.' @MegynKelly describes why she pulled her kids out of their NYC schools - and she, @GlennLoury and @Coldxman Hughes discuss how "woke" leftism has taken over schools. Listen below, download here:

As you may know, this racial propaganda isn't just found in posh private schools funded by value-signaling parents with more dollars than sense. In the past, for example, I've written about the Pacific Educational Group (PEG), which believes in "collectivism" for blacks and peddles "white privilege" theory in government schools.

Oh, those schools paid PEG $1.56 million in just 2014-15 alone.

So we do have a systemic problem: having an educational system that wastes oodles of tax money on destructive propaganda.

After all, while the earlier cited Sharroky Hollie did have her contract terminated after parents learned what she was peddling, there's plenty more where she came from. And those who made the decision to retain her are, no doubt, still in the Sarasota system — and others likeminded are in school districts nationwide.

We could point out that the race demagogue's suppositions, well reflected in Webber's letter, are false. For instance, far from there being hordes of budding white killer cops sitting in schoolrooms, studies actually show that non-white cops are more likely than white cops to kill non-white suspects. Police are also more likely to shoot white than non-white suspects.

But this isn't about reason. First, some race hustlers are clearly just interested in money; theirs is, after all, a lucrative racket. Second, others are so blindly prejudiced and hateful that they believe their own rhetoric. And, of course, a given person can be motivated by both factors.

Insofar as more Machiavellian race demagogues go, however, another factor is achieving power via scapegoating and the divide-and-conquer strategy.

Remember that every adversary has different weaknesses, and you attack what can be exploited in the given "opponent." For example, since 1917 Russia was relatively homogeneous, the race card couldn't be very effective, so it wasn't played. But being a relatively poor country (compared to us today), the Marxist class-warfare card could be effective.

Since the United States is quite wealthy, the class warfare card won't resonate as much (though it's still employed to a degree because envy plagues all peoples). But we are highly susceptible to “identity politics” because we’re so balkanized.

In reality, though, this racial hate-mongering isn’t good for anyone. And this isn’t just because dividing a nation through hate is never good. It’s also that, aside from feeling guilty over the wrong things, many white children will begin to feel angry and resentful over being stigmatized; and black children will be further instilled with a failure-breeding sense of defeatism and will become angry and resentful over being, supposedly, “held down.” It’s a great recipe for racial unrest and violence.

The only way this will end is if parents don’t just pull their kids from the offending schools, but do so en masse. The market talks, whining walks — and people get the schools they deserve.
