Ex-NFL Player Who Called for Jailing Vaccine Resisters Dies Suddenly

There has been much talk about Buffalo Bills safety Damar Hamlin's dramatic on-field collapse Monday night of a probable heart attack — at the tender age of 24. But he wasn't the only NFL figure who just recently experienced what is likely an odd cardiac event. Another one occurred just three days before, when former Jacksonville Jaguars offensive lineman Uche Nwaneri, 38, died of what has been described as probable "acute heart failure."

But while Hamlin's misfortune made news because he collapsed in the middle of a football game, Nwaneri's passing raised eyebrows for a different reason:

He'd previously called for the jailing of people who refuse the Covid gene-modification agents (GMAs, aka "vaccines").

As NBC reports:

Former Jacksonville Jaguars offensive guard Uchechukwu "Uche" Nwaneri, who grew up in and went to high school in North Texas and was briefly signed to the Dallas Cowboys, died Dec. 30, 2022, after collapsing in his wife's home. He was 38.

According to a report in the Lafayette Journal & Courier, Nwaneri was at his wife's home in West Lafayette, Indiana when she found him unresponsive in a bedroom at about 1 a.m.

The J&C, citing the Tippecanoe County Coroner, said preliminary results indicate Nwaneri possibly died of a heart attack, pending toxicology results. An autopsy showed no signs of foul play.

Of course, whenever there is another "died suddenly" story, those opposed to the GMAs will suspect that the drugs were the culprit while the mainstream media will brand such assertions "conspiracy theories." In fairness, too, we don't actually know that Hamlin's and Nwaneri's problems were caused by the GMAs.

Many also point out that we don't even know that they had the Covid shots. Yet it's a given that Nwaneri did, and virtually certain Hamlin did as well.

Note here that as of October 2021 already, 94.1 percent of NFL players had taken the GMAs, according to a press release issued by the league itself. What's more, we can be sure Nwaneri took the shot because of his aggressive GMA advocacy.

As LifeSite reports, "During the COVID-19 pandemic, Nwaneri advocated for vaccine mandates, exaggerating the danger of COVID-19 for children and suggesting that those who refused the shots should be thrown in jail” (relevant tweet below).

The ex-athlete also criticized people who used the Left’s own pro-abortion-activism words against it when combating Covid mandates (tweet below).

Of course, Nwaneri had it backwards. Prenatal infanticide involves the killing of a body within a body, the murder of a separate human person who temporarily must live within another human person, his mother. That’s fact — and science. Mask (and GMA) mandates, in contrast, actually do involve telling someone what he must do with his body and are, do note, contrary to science.

More of Nwaneri’s political/social ideas can be found here.

Not surprisingly, the ex-football player isn’t the first person to criticize the un-jabbed and then experience a sudden, unexpected death. Another, even more striking case was that of prominent New Brunswick, Canada, cardiologist Dr. Sohrab Lutchmedial, who died just two weeks after his third GMA injection. In fact, after advertising his shot status, he wrote in 2021 regarding people whose refusal of the GMAs is for allegedly “selfish” reasons, “I won’t cry at their funeral.”

As for Nwaneri, his “death is the latest in an alarming trend of sudden deaths among athletes, coinciding with the rollout of the Covid vaccines and raising suspicion that the shots led to heart failure among young athletes,” LifeSite also tells us. “In April 2022, Dr. Joseph Mercola pointed out that over 700 athletes ‘collapsed on the field during a game from March 2021 to March 2022.’ The average age of those who experienced heart-related trauma was 23.”

What’s more, 1,500 athletes in European sports leagues have experienced cardiac arrest since the GMAs’ introduction, according to a recent report. Prior to the GMA imposition, this figure was only 29 a year.

Nonetheless, the powers-that-be have their story — and they’re sticking to it. In fact, the “World Health Organization” (a misnomer if ever there were one) is trying to ensure that even when unexpected and anomalous deaths are caused by the GMAs, no one can talk about it.

As the WHO put it via a mid-December video (below) it disseminated, “Anti-vaccine activism” is in reality “anti-science aggression” and is a greater threat than “gun violence, global terrorism, [or] nuclear proliferation.”

Not only that, but this “aggression” requires “political solutions,” too, the video presentation concludes. So mind your tongue, subject.

The good news is that while the pseudo-elites present a united front of deception, the propaganda isn’t entirely working. After all, a recent poll did show that almost half of American adults believe the Covid shots are, in all likelihood, killing people.
