WHO: Over 2 Million Potential Adverse Reactions to COVID Jabs in 2021, Almost 70 Percent in Women

While the World Economic Forum and other globalist organizations such as United Nations want every single person on that planet to be vaccinated against COVID, because, they claim, “no one is safe until everyone is safe,” vaccines are causing millions of injuries and deaths, adding up daily.

The shocking data from the World Health Organization (WHO), a specialized agency of the UN responsible for international public health, show that, as of today, there have been more than two million reported adverse reactions to the experimental gene/viral therapeutics, aka COVID vaccines.

The WHO’s publicly accessible database, called VigiAccess, records potential side effects of pharmaceutical products, and was founded in 2015 to establish public access to the WHO’s another database called VigiBase.

Per the VigiAccess webpage, the side effects of the drugs, aka adverse drug reactions (ADRs) and adverse events following immunization (AEFIs), are reported by national pharmacovigilance centers or national drug regulatory authorities that are members of the WHO Program for International Drug Monitoring (PIDM).

Similar to the American Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS), a database co-run by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), VigiAccess underlines that the database is only a “starting point” for those who want to learn about the “potential side effects” of various pharmaceutical products, but the cases do not necessarily have a direct link to the use of such products.

That being said, the number of ADRs reported in connection with COVID-19 vaccines is outstanding. A bit confusingly, a search for “covid-19 vaccine” shows that the first side effect was recorded in 2014. Possibly, that occurred due to a trial of a “coronavirus vaccine.” There was one case in 2016, 29 in 2018, 83 in 2019, 2,259 in 2020, and 2,201,851 in 2021.

Geographically, half of all of the ADRs were reported to the system from Europe, 38 percent came from both of the Americas, six percent from Asia, with Africa and Oceania splitting the remaining six percent.

The database shows that 69 percent of the ADRs occurred in women. While VigiAccess does not reflect how many ADRs occurred in men and women specifically, the number of disorders related exclusively to women’s health is telling. For example, the database shows that there were 4,921 side effects that complicated pregnancy, postpartum and perinatal conditions. Of them, there were 2,853 spontaneous abortions, 240 fetal deaths, 72 stillbirths, 106 premature labors, 88 premature deliveries, and 96 hemorrhages in pregnancy, among other conditions possibly triggered by the vaccinations.

In both genders, there were 85,797 reproductive system and breast disorders, of which women, again, suffered more. Of that number, about 80,000 cases represent various menstrual disorders.

Among other ADRs are:

- 108,468 cardiac disorders;
- 952,822 nervous system disorders;
- 647,069 musculoskeletal and connective tissue disorders
- 454,963 gastrointestinal disorders;
- 303,701 skin and subcutaneous tissue disorders
- 233,274 respiratory, thoracic and mediastinal disorders;
- 148,058 infections and infestations;
- 119,464 vascular disorders;
- 1,344,552 general disorders and administration-site conditions (that list alone contains 668 different ADRs, from pyrexia and fatigue to sudden death);
- 88,967 blood and lymphatic system disorders;
- 80,958 eye disorders;
- 73,537 ear and labyrinth disorders;
- 30,921 immune health disorders; and
- 17,730 renal and urinary disorders.

The database does not provide an option to retrieve data for specific brand names of the jabs, nor does it show which cases were reported by the individual WHO PIDM members.

Even if a fraction of all of these events occurred as a result of vaccination, it is unclear why WHO does not investigate its own database and sound a global alarm on the vaccines that may be associated with hundreds of thousands of life-altering injuries and deaths.

According to Life News, the nature of side effects reflected in the database is consistent with the numerous warnings voiced by medical practitioners worldwide, especially in connection to women's reproductive health.

The outlet cites, among others, Dr. Michael Yeadon, a former vice president at Pfizer, who revealed that 15 pregnant women who were vaccinated against COVID developed three-fold higher levels of antibodies against their own placentas and that this data was "dismissed and hidden by the vaccine industry and public health."

Yeadon stated that for nearly a decade the scientists were perfectly aware that lipid nanoparticles, such as those used in mRNA shots, accumulate in ovaries and are potentially toxic to reproductive health.

Idaho-based doctor Ryan Cole, a board-certified pathologist and owner and operator of a diagnostics lab, shared back in March that he was seeing a "20 times increase" of endometrial (uterus) cancers since the vaccine rollout in January. Cole also noted an "uptick" in melanomas, herpes, shingles, mono, and a "huge uptick" in HPV (papillomavirus) when "looking at the cervical biopsies of women."

Prominent physician Dr. Peter McCullough has recently provided a well-documented lecture on what he called a “major biological catastrophe” of the COVID vaccination campaign. Among other things, he noted the proven and verified health implications associated with mRNA technology used in America in the Pfizer and Moderna vaccines. McCullough compared the technology to a “loaded weapon” that circulates in the body and damages cells and whole organs.

The doctor added that by using that new technology, which is already proven to produce lethal results, on the whole world, including children, women of the child-bearing age, and expectant mothers, governments and Big Pharma are taking “a gamble of extraordinary implications.”

According to Our World in Data, to date, 46.3 percent of the world population has received at least one dose of the vaccine. 6.4 billion doses have been administered for far, and the number grows by 22.25 million each day.
