NBC Inadvertently Shows Biden Packing Cities With Illegals, “Migrants” Coming for Jobs, Not “Asylum”

In the latest lachrymose tale of “migrants” at the border from NBC News, you might say the lead flew under the radar: The Biden administration is using commercial airlines to flood the heartland with illegal aliens and push forward the so-called Great Replacement of white Americans with Third World immigrants.

Border authorities released as many as 50,000 illegals in April because their facilities are packed to the rafters with “migrants.”

As well, NBC let another cat out the bag without knowing it. The illegals aren’t jumping the border because they are running from violence and persecution. They’re coming for jobs and free stuff.

Under President Biden, the determination of who stays and who goes has become a lottery.

The reason, according to the sector chief of the Rio Grande Valley Border Patrol, is that some enter on days when Mexico cannot take them back. <https://t.co/X93ZSZTGwh>

The Data

Cutting through the story’s melodramatic interviews and ignoring the pathos-inducing photographs, a reader will get these facts:

- “15 single adult men who had been caught crossing the border a few days earlier were released to a nearby shelter, where they waited for flights and buses that would take them to cities across the U.S.”
- “17 percent of all families and single adults apprehended by [Rio Grande Valley Border Sectors agents] this year have been released into the U.S.”
- “Borderwide, about 15 percent of single adults and 65 percent of families are released into the U.S. rather than expelled, according to Customs and Border Protection data from April.”

Breaking down those last two figures alone shows the magnitude of what Biden and his leftist henchmen are doing. In April, CBP data show, 108,301 single adults jumped the border, along with 48,226 who claimed they were in “families.”

Assuming NBC's percentages apply to border jumpers, not those who show up at ports of entry, then in one month alone, CBP released 16,245 single adults and 31,347 members of family units. If the percentages include those stopped at ports of entry, the numbers are even worse.

Since Biden landed in office, 464,965 single adults and family members have jumped the border. If NBC's reported percentage of those released has been and remains consistent, Biden's border policy amounts to open war on American cities.

Why They're Coming

The point of NBC's story is that some illegals are deported, and some aren't. Thus, "under Biden, crossing the border has become a lottery for migrants," as the headline says.

One of the 15 single adults awaiting a trip to Miami admitted that he didn't come the United States to seek asylum, but instead to find work and take a job from an unemployed American:

"Sometimes I ask myself why they had me and they deported others," said a 20-year-old Nicaraguan, who said he left home to find work and was now headed to Miami. "And I give thanks to God."

The unemployed American that he cheats out of a job won't give thanks to God, but in any event, another illegal said something similar. "It's very difficult in my country," a Honduran woman wailed. "There's nothing."

In other words, she came for a job and free stuff. Taxpayers will pick up the bills for her and the 10-year-old child she dragged along.

Those confessions are not unusual. Almost all asylum claims from illegals are bogus, and a survey of illegals sent back to their homes found that almost 100 percent did not flee persecution or violence, but instead came to find work.

Homeland Security chief Alejandro Mayorkas terminated former President Trump's Migrant Protection Protocols yesterday, a move that will open the border to tens of thousands of "migrants" who have filed, and will file, phony asylum pleas. <https://t.co/od7QbyZCVh>

Earlier this week, Homeland Security Alejandro Mayorkas terminated former President Trump's Migrant Protection Protocols, which included the Remain in Mexico policy.

That policy required those seeking asylum to wait on the other side of the border until their cases were heard.

A Cuban immigrant and visa fraudster, Mayorkas is Biden's point man to flood the country with illegals and make them Democrats voters.

Once that happens, the country will be under one-party rule forever.

As for NBC's story, jumping the border isn't just a "lottery" for the illegals. It's a lottery for Americans in the cities to which Biden is sending them.

Will an illegal alien hired by a contractor murder a wife and mother who is home alone, or will he simply take the job her son needed to help pay for college?
