Antifa, BLM Terrorize Children, Elderly, and Minorities at Million MAGA March

Which side is the side of hate again?

Multitudes of actual peaceful protesters filled the streets of Washington, D.C., on Saturday at the Million MAGA March, which called attention to evidence of voter fraud in the 2020 election and contested the media's claim that Joe Biden is the president-elect. But while the demonstrators were peaceable during the day, violent left-wing agitators arrived attacking the conservatives, particularly as day turned to night.

Radical groups such as Black Lives Matter and Antifa did not hesitate to target women, children, the elderly, and minorities at the pro-Trump gathering, which was attended by such public personalities as Alex Jones.

They also threatened and harassed a middle-aged man walking down the street with a scooter, pushing the scooter down and throwing unidentified liquids at him.

Also during the event, a black mother with her young children wearing a Blue Lives matter hat and a Trump jacket frantically told police she wanted to press charges against her assailants. They had cornered her and asked her why she had her children there. She was pushing a child in a stroller and shielding her pre-teen daughter when she was attacked.

Additionally, the "social justice" crowd stomped on the head of an older man after the rally. A black man ran up behind the Trump supporter and bushwacked him, making him fall to the ground.

— Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump) November 15, 2020

The Left has been saying for months prior to the election that they plan to use violence and intimidation to compel the government and public into accepting a Biden, rather than a Trump, win.

The George Soros-funded Transition Integrity Project is one of the organizations that has been using the Black Lives Matter movement as a nucleus for building mass street uprisings against the president.

There's also Shut Down DC, which carried out training to facilitate mass protests and civil unrest planned for the days subsequent to Election Night.

"If Trump is trying to launch a coup, that's no time for business as usual," the organization's website explains. "And if Trump has already conceded, then we can pivot and use these actions to demand COVID-19 relief and other essential legislation!"

In another section of its website, Shut Down D.C. maintains that it wants to force the president from the White House:

We recognize that many of the challenges that we are facing did not start when Trump was elected president and they will not end when he is forced from office.

We are not seeking a "return to normalcy," because we know that returning to "normal" means returning to a system that was built on oppression. Rather, we see this as the time to rise up against the current crisis and move forward to dismantle the interlocking systems of oppression that have plagued this land for centuries.

Now, in this crucial hour, the Left is unleashing its trained violent agitators. Patriots must stand up to prevent them from controlling the levers of government lest their Gestapo tactics become a permanent part of U.S. politics.
