Biden Wrong on Post-vaccine Virus Cases, Cognitive Decline Shows Again

President Joe Biden's warm and friendly chin wag with CNN's Don Lemon on Wednesday didn't just demonstrate that he doesn't know the basics about the China Virus and the vaccines that are supposed to prevent it. He again showed pronounced cognitive decline, and that he appears to have dementia if not Alzheimer's disease.

Biden falsely said that no one who gets one of the experimental vaccines will be hospitalized or, worse, die, gasping for air. Then he erupted into at least two geysers of incomprehensible gibberish.

Everyone knows Biden rarely knows what he's talking about, and that's bad enough. But even worse, he's sundowning, a classic symptom of Alzheimer's.

Yes, You Can Die if Vaccinated

A homosexual accused of sexual assault, Lemon appeared ready to jump into Biden's arms. He love-bombed Biden all the way through, and opened the "town hall" with an easy question the media typically reserve for the cerebrally impaired president.

"You know the pandemic is a big concern for everyone, really, around the world — especially around America," he said:

New cases are up three — you know, three times since last month. Right? The pandemic is a big concern. Hospitalizations, death rising.

So, you said last month that this — that the virus is in retreat. Do you still feel that way? Is that still the case?

"Well, the virus — look, here's the — it's real simple: We have a pandemic for those who haven't gotten a vaccination," Biden began. "It's that basic, that simple. Ten thousand people have recently died; 9,950 of them, thereabouts, are people who hadn't been vaccinated."

Then came this whopper:

There's a simple, basic proposition: If you're vaccinated, you're not going to be hospitalized, you're not going to be in an ICU unit, and you're not going to die.

That is false. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has reported more than 10,000 "breakthrough" virus cases as of April, meaning cases in which fully vaccinated Americans have contracted the virus. As of July 12, 5,189 Americans had landed in the hospital and 1,063 had died. One of Biden's own vaxxed staff members, and one of House Speaker Nancy Pelosi's vaxxed staff members, contracted the virus, as has GOP Representative Vern Buchanan of Florida.

Looking overseas, England's fully vaxxed health minister contracted the virus, as did some 100 British sailors aboard an aircraft carrier. Almost 50 percent of Britain's new cases are partially or fully vaxxed.

Blah, Blah, Blah

Biden began sundowning when Lemon asked when 12-year-olds would get the jab. The first part of Biden's answer was almost understandable, but then he blew a gasket:

And the question is whether or not we should be in a position where you are — why can't the experts say we know that this virus is, in fact — is going to be — or, excuse me — we know why all the drugs approved are not temporarily approved, but permanently approved. That's underway, too. I expect that to occur quickly.

Twitter hilarity ensued.

"Can anyone translate this nonsense," a user named Jason tweeted.

Lemon tried to rescue Biden from drowning in the sea of gibberish.

Lemon: Well, that means — you mean for the FDA?

Biden: For the FDA.

Lemon: Yeah. So, what do you —

Biden: The Federal Drug Administration.

The Federal Drug Administration? Maybe Biden meant the Food and Drug Administration.

Biden lost it again in another exchange. “You got the vaccination?” he asked a poker-faced Lemon.

Are you okay? I mean, you seem.... No, it works. Or you, you know — or the mom and dad, or the neighbor, or when you go to church, or when you’re — no, I really mean it.

There are trusted interlocutors. Think of the people — if your kid wanted to find out whether or not there were — there’s a man on the moon, or whatever — you know, something, or, you know, whether those aliens are here or not — you know, who are the people they talk to beyond the kids who love talking about it? They go to people they respect, and they say, “What do you think?”

Democrats and Biden’s leftist supporters have discussed his cognitive decline since before last year’s election.

“Democratic insiders know Biden has cognitive decline issues,” a Bernie Sanders backer tweeted last year. “They joke about it. They don’t care.”
