Fauci: Even With Vaccine, Life Won't Go Back to Normal Until Fall of 2021

The pandemic is here to stay, according to creatures of the establishment.

White House COVID-19 advisor Anthony Fauci, director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), said recently that, despite ongoing vaccinations, life in America won't go back to normal until fall of 2021.

"We can do both, we can keep the country open and we can abide by the public health measures," Fauci told MSNBC on Thursday. "That together with a vaccine, I believe in 2021 we will see this behind us.... It's not going to happen in the first few months. If we do it correctly, hopefully, as we get into the end of the summer, the beginning of the fall of 2021, we can start to approach some degree of normality."

These comments came as Surgeon General Dr. Jerome Adams claimed millions of COVID-19 vaccines distributed to states have not yet been administered to patients, in part, due to lack of adequate state and local funding.

Under three million Americans have received the vaccine so far, though the Trump administration said it wanted that number to reach 20 million by the end of December.

"Whenever you have a very large operation, such as trying to vaccinate an entire country with a new vaccine, there always will be bumps in the road," Fauci said. "We hope ... as we get into the first week or so of January, we'll catch up quickly with that 20-million-dose-in-the-arms projection that we had. And as we get into the middle of January, February, March, we would be on the target."

Two vaccines have thus far been given emergency approval by the FDA — one by Pfizer-BioNTech and one by Moderna.

Former Vice President Joe Biden has criticized the pace of vaccine distribution, vowing to accelerate it if he takes the seat in the oval office this month.

"We'll find ways to boost the pace of vaccinations," he said, reiterating a goal of "ensuring that 100 million shots have been administered by the end of the first 100 days."

Curiously, Fauci's assertion that life will return to normal in the fall of 2021 is in line with claims by Chinese media that their country will achieve herd immunity by the end of this year.

"To reach the goal, China needs to prepare about 2 billion vaccine doses, Tao Lina, a Shanghai-based medical expert on vaccines, told the Global Times on Friday,” the Chinese propaganda outlet Global Times reported, “noting that China’s vaccine production capacity could meet the demand, but mass exports could be hard.”

The Global Times had previously criticized the United States for attempting to achieve “herd immunity” rather than “large-scale testing, quarantining infected individuals and their close contacts, and promoting vaccine development.”

“The White House was reportedly embracing a declaration of herd immunity, drawing widespread criticism from scientists and experts,” the outlet wrote in October.

Similarly, in April, the Global Times condemned the government of Sweden for being “coldblooded, indifferent to life, and gravely [violating] humanitarian principles with its herd immunity strategy.”

The United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) defines herd immunity as “a situation in which a sufficient proportion of a population is immune to an infectious disease (through vaccination and/or prior illness) to make its spread from person to person unlikely.”

Yet for China, as for much of the establishment, the concept is being twisted into meaning that only a vaccine can achieve herd immunity; leaving the population to naturally become immune to the virus through exposure is brushed off as madness, despite the fact that COVID-19 has a 98 percent survival rate.

That Fauci and China are on the same page isn’t surprising. After all, Fauci’s NIAID subsidized the Wuhan Lab in China in which the virus originated. The American Deep State and Democrat Party, and even establishment Republicans such as Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell, are in bed with the communist Chinese.

In the Georgia Senate runoff, for example, Republican incumbent David Perdue pointed out that challenging Democrat Jon Ossoff failed to disclose his business ties to the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) in the form of compensation from Hong Kong company PCCW Media Limited, which is connected to the Chinese government.

So long as the people continue to give in to the fear campaigns, “normality” will be a precious commodity that only the ruling elite are allowed to participate in.
