Two GOP Senators Say Columbus Day Is Too Expensive if Juneteenth Added to Calendar

Two Republican senators have surrendered to the leftist rioters and vandals who have moved from wrecking the statues of long-dead Confederates to wrecking the statues of longer-dead Catholic trailblazers, most notably, Christopher Columbus.

As one city after another bows to the false narrative that Columbus was a racist oppressor, Senators Ron Johnson of Wisconsin and James Lankford of Oklahoma say the federal holiday honoring the Italian explorer should be scrapped.

Yesterday, the pair offered an amendment to a bill,
