Arizona State Representative Mark Finchem joins Alex Newman, senior editor for The New American magazine, at the We Stand America event in Texas to discuss the current status of the election integrity investigations in Maricopa County and the border crisis in Arizona. He says that based on the extensive evidence already collected, the 2020 presidential election in Maricopa County should be set aside. Regarding criminal prosecutions related to the 2020 elections in Arizona, he would be surprised if we don't see one of the largest racketeering cases in the history of the United States.
