We are told that the unvaccinated are getting sick, filling hospitals, and dying. Yet mounting evidence indicates that the reality is very different: It is the vaccinated who are getting sick, filling hospitals, and dying. In this episode of “Beyond the Cover,” host Gary Benoit interviews Rebecca Terrell, who takes a hard look at the evidence in her cover story “The Biggest Medical Experiment in History” in the January 17, 2022 issue of The New American. Terrell, a licensed nurse in Tennessee, writes for The New American on energy, science, and medicine.
