Jovan H. Pulitzer, one of the nation's leading experts battling election fraud, offered a number of powerful suggestions on how Americans can make sure that future elections will be more fair, transparent, and accurate. Speaking to The New American magazine's Alex Newman at the Moment of Truth Summit, Pulitzer outlined some of the obvious problems with the system that need to be fixed.

The machines, for instance, are plagued with issues, and Pulitzer gives a number of examples. Counterintuitively, Pulitzer actually said 2020 was the “greatest gift” election-integrity activists could have asked for, because it taught Americans how elections work. Still, 2020 cannot be forgotten — it must be investigated and fixed.

In the interview, Pulitzer also offered some important recommendations — including not using sharpies provided at the polls, keeping your mail-in ballot unopened and taking it with you to your polling place on election day, calling the sheriff if the poll worker claims you voted already, and other ideas.
