

How Soviets Kidnapped Anti-Communist US Congressman

In this interview with The New American magazine's Senior Editor Alex Newman, researcher and author Bert Schlossberg explains exactly what he believes happened after a Soviet fighter jet fired a missile at flight KAL-007 carrying anti-communist U.S. Congressman Larry McDonald. Schlossberg, a surviving relative of a KAL007 victim, provides new evidence that the plane actually made an emergency landing and that the passengers survived the attack. That means the Soviets had unrestricted access to McDonald — one of the most important enemies of communism on Earth as a congressman, chairman of the John Birch Society, and leader of the Western Goals Foundation. After spending decades researching, Schlossberg argues that it is time for a new, real investigation into what really happened.

Subscribe to the New American

Get exclusive digital access to the most informative, non-partisan truthful news source for patriotic Americans!

Discover a refreshing blend of time-honored values, principles and insightful perspectives within the pages of "The New American" magazine. Delve into a world where tradition is the foundation, and exploration knows no bounds.

From politics and finance to foreign affairs, environment, culture, and technology, we bring you an unparalleled array of topics that matter most.

Subscribe

What's Included?

- 24 Issues Per Year
- Optional Print Edition
- Digital Edition Access
- Exclusive Subscriber Content
- Audio provided for all articles
- Unlimited access to past issues
- Coming Soon! Ad FREE
- 60-Day money back guarantee!
- Cancel anytime.