Parents across California organized a “state-wide sit out” to take their children out of government schools in protest of the COVID injection mandates requiring children to receive the shots, Moms for Liberty leader Jenny Grinager of California. Most children were kept home in some schools and areas, she said, suggesting the resistance is growing massively. Grinager said the resistance would only continue to intensify and Moms for Liberty is making plans to keep the battle going as long as necessary to protect their children and their freedoms from the escalating assault.
