The Coming Big Silver Short

In this interview with The New American's Alex Newman, author and former options trader Chris Marcus of Arcadia Economics explains that there is a looming explosion in silver due to price manipulation and unbacked paper. Large banks are involved. He says that when the market figures out that there is far more "paper" silver than there is physical silver to back it up, prices will skyrocket. He also talks about his new book, The Big Silver Short.
