

Davos 2024: “Disinformation” Now the No. 1 Threat, Say Globalist Elites

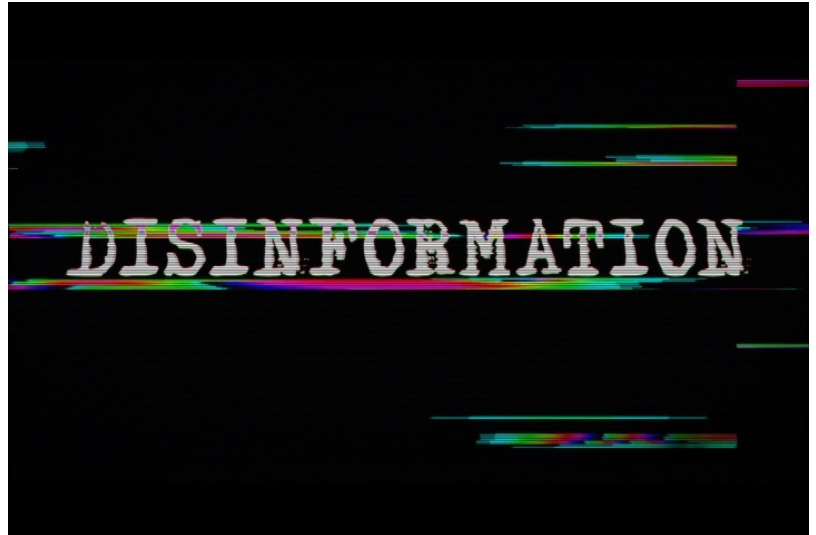

The billionaire globalists of the World Economic Forum together with their kept politicians and celebrity hangers-on had a new bugaboo this year. In speech after speech and in one presentation after another, fears of global warming and a new Covid outburst took a backseat to a new “top” global risk: “disinformation and misinformation.”

In a keynote address to the annual bash of the “great and good,” Ursula von der Leyen, president of the European Commission, warned: “For the global business community, the top concern for the next two years is not conflict or climate, it is disinformation and misinformation, followed closely by polarization within our societies. These risks are serious because they limit our ability to tackle the big global challenges we are facing. Changes in our climate and our geopolitical climate, shifts in our demography and in our technology.”

Don’t be tricked into thinking for a moment, however, that the Davos fearmongers are backing off their climate-cult obsession, their pandemic porn, or their commitment to perpetual war. It’s just that in order to prevent too many people from understanding and opposing their use of these issues to propel us into their planned world government, they must use disinformation to demonize truth-tellers as disinformation agents.

WEF co-founder and chairman Klaus Schwab introduced von der Leyen as a “distinguished leader and visionary” and said, “Actually, you have been named the most influential woman in the world.” What von der Leyen and her privileged, jet-setting, socialist comrades are worried about is that more and more voters are refusing to believe the globalist propaganda spun out by the Deep State-controlled media. The WEFers are especially concerned because 2024 is a “Super Election year,” with more than 2 billion voters going to the polls in 50 countries, including the United States, Mexico, India, Russia, Indonesia, Venezuela, Pakistan, and the European Union. Recent victories by populist candidates such as Javier Milei in Argentina and Geert Wilders in the Netherlands are stirring the angst of the elites. But their biggest concern, of course, is anti-globalist Donald Trump, who scored a massive victory in the Iowa Republican caucuses just as the Davos soiree was getting underway.

Von der Leyen, like all the WEF oligarchs, is big on pushing Public Private Partnerships (PPPs) with one-world corporatists. She sees a continued expansion of Big Government-Big Business-Big Tech collusion to rein in “disinformation” that conflicts with the Orwellian Ministry of Truth the globalists are hellbent on imposing on all humanity.

“While governments hold many of the levers to deal with the great challenges of our time, businesses have the innovation, the technology, the talents to deliver the solutions we need to fight threats like climate change or industrial-scale disinformation,” she said.

Particularly laughable was von der Leyen’s promotion of the European Union as a model and beacon of free speech. She described the EU as “a union of 27 democracies, where all of us have the right to speak our mind, to be ourselves, even if we are different from the majority.” Really? In truth, member countries of the EU have some of the most oppressive “hate speech” laws in the world (see, for instance here and here) and the EU adds its own oppressive layer on top of that. In fact, in her September 2020 State of the European Union address, von der Leyen announced that the EU Commission will propose “to extend the list of EU crimes to all forms of hate crime and hate speech, whether because of race, religion, gender or sexuality.” So, if you say anything that offends the pervert lobby, the race hustlers, or the militant Islamists, you may face prosecution, fines, and jail in Madame von der Leyen’s domain.

Playing on the old UN theme that “global crises require global solutions,” the EU pol opined: “This is a time to drive global collaboration more than ever before. This requires immediate and structural responses to match the size of the global challenges.”

Socialist International Answers the Call

Among the 60 heads of state addressing the WEF confab held in Davos, Switzerland, January 14-19, was Spanish Prime Minister Pedro Sanchez. Mr. Sanchez used his time at the podium not only to push the United Nations Agenda 2030 and its Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), but also the UN’s dangerous Paris Agreement on climate change. He also accentuated the main theme of this year’s Davos narrative on the necessity of “global governance” of artificial intelligence. Because, you know, only virtuous UN public servants and their equally virtuous corporate partners should be trusted with the enormous power of AI! Moreover, he warned of the “terrible trend” of the growing “far right” and identified that “far right” with the scourge of disinformation and “fake news.” The current globalist narrative that has been building for the past year is that the exponential growth of artificial intelligence and its potential use by “bad actors” to produce “deep fake” disinformation has brought us to an “inflection point” which is driving us ineluctably toward some form of “global governance” structure under the United Nations to protect us from the dangers that unregulated AI presents to humanity. Thus we have the UN’s Global Digital Compact, the UN’s Governing AI for Humanity report, the UN’s Our Common Agenda, and the UN’s ongoing push for what it euphemistically calls “digital cooperation.” That cooperation is being built by a UN High-level Panel on Digital Cooperation that includes a passel of “Key Constituents” with less than stellar records when it comes to the rights, freedoms, justice, and limitations on government that most of us highly value. The UN panel of 400 “Key Constituents” includes, for instance, adjuncts of the Chinese Communist Party, such as the Beijing Academy of Artificial Intelligence, Tsinghua University, and the CCP-controlled mega-corp Alibaba. Then there are the other usual suspects on the UN panel: WEF, WHO, UNESCO, Gates Foundation, Ford Foundation, Google (and Google’s DeepMind), Facebook, Microsoft, Cisco, MasterCard, World Bank, World Food Programme, and the European Union.

The WEF’s stated theme for Davos 2024 is “Rebuilding Trust Amid Uncertainty.” But, are you ready to trust the megalomaniacs and agents of mass-murdering regimes at the UN and the WEF? Prime Minister Sanchez and his fellow WEFers are returning to the same well they’ve already dipped from so many times: global warming fear porn. Only now they are fixating on alternative news sources that are undermining their lies with truth and facts.

“Dear friends,” Sanchez told his audience, “Imagine for a moment that we are in the year 2030, in the 60th edition of this forum. Imagine that the world has failed to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals and the goals of the Paris Agreement.” He continued:

Imagine that the planet’s temperature has risen more than 1.5 degrees, causing the degradation of our ecosystems, and that our GDP has fallen by 15 points.

Imagine that fake news and political polarization have reduced the number of democracies. That the advance of digitalization and Artificial Intelligence has not been properly governed and has increased inequality, and expelled millions of people from the labor market.

It is worth noting that Mr. Sanchez is also secretary-general of the Spanish Socialist Worker’s Party (PSOE), an extreme-left party with a long communist pedigree, and currently serves as president of the Socialist International, which includes member socialist parties from more than 100 countries. The Socialist International is joined at the hip to the United Nations and dominates many of the UN agencies, panels, and summits. (See here, here, and here.)

Sanchez can be seen along with a mob of comrades giving the communist clenched fist salute and singing the communist anthem “The Internationale” (formerly the anthem of the Soviet Union) after winning reelection to head the PSOE.

Sanchez has pushed Spain closer to Communist China and has developed close ties with dictator Xi Jinping and Premier Li Qiang, who was also an honored guest and speaker at Davos 2024, as was Pham Minh Chinh, Prime Minister of Communist Vietnam.

(Videos of Li Qiang and Pham Minh Chinh addressing the Davos elites, along with the sycophantic introductions by Klaus Schwab, can be seen on the WEF website here.)

Globalist-Communist Convergence and the Great Reset

The increasing presence and prominence of high-level officials from communist countries at WEF affairs, along with the WEF’s annual Davos-like confab in China, is proof of the planned “convergence” — as the globalists call it — of the communist and non-communist countries into their planned New World Order. This ongoing love affair between the WEF and murderous, totalitarian regimes should alert all but the willfully blind that the pontifications by globalists about serving humanity are total claptrap. The convergence and transformation they envision would be a hellish global regime resembling Communist China’s prison state. (For more on convergence, see here, here, and here.)

In the regimes favored by the WEF, information that is not approved by the regime is deemed disinformation and is ruthlessly suppressed. As we have reported, the Biden administration has teamed up federal agencies with Big Tech companies and a consortium of private censorship outfits to create a Thought Police mimicking Red China’s. The federal Cybersecurity & Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA), together with the Election Integrity Project (EIP), the University of Washington’s Center for an Informed Public (CIP), the Stanford Internet Observatory (SIO), NewsGuard, the Atlantic Council’s Digital Forensic Research Lab (DFRLab), the Center for Internet Security (CIS), and a host of additional entities have set themselves up as the guardians against “misinformation, disinformation, and malinformation,” especially as it relates to the upcoming 2024 elections.

The globalist would-be Masters of the Universe know full well that many millions of people worldwide have awakened to their schemes and that resistance is building — which is why they have been accelerating their planned convergence and efforts to implement their Great Reset. They are desperate to get their Thought Police firmly established in the months ahead in order to suppress free speech, choke off what they call disinformation, and totally control the narrative in this critical election year.
