“Non-Western” Men Dominate Sex Crimes in Norway

Muslim men are continuing their brutal campaign of rape against Norwegian women, according to a police report broadcast on a Norwegian television station. According to the report, all assault rapes in Oslo during the past five years were committed by “non-Western” men, a clear euphemism for Muslims either from Africa, the Middle East, or Asia given the identity of most rapists in Scandinavia.

Shockingly, a woman police official discussing the rapes made excuses for the rapists in the video.

The news is hardly new. Muslim men have been conducting a wave of sexual terror against Norwegian women for some time.

The News Reports

According to the news report, “all sexual assaults involving rape in the past year has been committed by males of non-western background.”

This was the conclusion of a police report published today. This means that every single rape assault in the last five years, where the rapist could be identified, he was a man of foreign origin.

The broadcast repeatedly emphasized that the rapists were “non-Western.” “Today Oslo police presented the total figures,” the broadcast said, “revealing how in the past year, all sexual assaults involving rape have been committed by men of non-western background.” The statistics, the report said in almost comical understatement, are “troubling.”

From 2005-2010, a total of 86 sexual assaults involving rape was reported in 83 cases the man was described as having “non-western appearance.” [T]hese are all the cases in which the perpetrator could be identified by the victim.

Commenting on the news for reporters, a woman police official said that Norwegians have to understand that the rapists are underprivileged.

Many of the perpetrators who commit these rapes are on the edge of society often unemployed, arriving from traumatized countries. In the past five years it has often been asylum seekers.

Perpetrator: I Rape for Allah

A reporter for the station interviewed a Norwegian girl who suffered a brutal rape at the foul hands of a Pakistani immigrant. He told her his religion instructed him to violate her. According to the girl:

“He said, that he had the right to do exactly as he wanted to a woman.”

[Reporter] Why?

“Because that is how it was in his religion. Women did not have rights or opinions[;] he was in charge.”

Sexual Terror Against Western Women

That “non-Western” men, meaning Muslims, are conducting a veritable sexual war against Scandinavian women is undisputed, even by leftist media outlets in Norway and Sweden.

An article in Aftenposten in 2001 documented the problem: “Of the 111 charged with rape in Oslo last year, 72 were of non-western ethnic origin, 25 are classified as Norwegian or western and 14 are listed as unknown,” the paper reported.

Rape charges in the capital are spiraling upwards, 40 percent higher from 1999 to 2000 and up 13 percent so far this year. Nine out of ten cases do not make it to prosecution, most of them because police do not believe the evidence is sufficient to reach a conviction. ... While 65 percent of those charged with rape are classed as coming from a non-western background, this segment makes up only 14.3 percent of Oslo's population. Norwegian women were the victims in 80 percent of the cases.

In other words, Muslims from Africa and other benighted Third World places are targeting Western women for rape.

In 2005, the blogger Fjordman reported on a similar rape wave in Sweden. A crime prevention study that year reported that Algerians, Libyans, Moroccans, and Tunisians “dominate the group of rape suspects,” he reported. The same year, the newspaper Aftonbladet reported that nearly half of all rapists were immigrants.

Such was the rape problem in Sweden that a group of girls designed an anti-rape belt that functioned as a “reverse chastity belt,” one of the designers said. It didn’t keep women locked in; it kept men locked out. According to Agence France Presse:

The military-style buckle has a latch that the wearer has to move through a labyrinth into the correct position in order to unlock the belt.

“You need two hands to open it, so the rapist can't hold you down and open it at the same time. It takes a while to figure it out if you don't know what you're doing,” she said. ...

“But I'm not doing this for the money,” she said. “I'm really passionate about stopping rape. I think it's terrible.”

Fjordman noted that the problem was so bad in Sweden that women are afraid to go outside.

As for the latest story, Aftenposten thought better of its original headline, “Foreigners over-represented in rape statistics,” and changed it to “New sexual culture shapes attacks.”

Perhaps. But “non-Western men,” meaning Muslims, are “shaping that “new sexual culture.” That culture, which is Islamic, sanctions the rape of Norwegian women.
